COMMERCIAL EPITOME.

FRIDAY NIGHT, March 28, 1873.

But little progress has been made during the past week in the resumption of spring trade. The weather has been very cold and unseasonable, and there have been severe snowstorms in the North and West, causing some obstruction to railway transportation, and preventing any increase of inland navigation. Owing, however, to a variety of influences, to which reference is made in other columns, prices of most of the leading staples of domestic produce have had an unpward tendency, and the week shows some advance; while foreign merchandize is generally no higher, and, with few exceptions, has not been in much demand. In provisions there has been a good degree of activity, and prices have advanced for most descriptions of hog products, though with some irregularity. The advance and activity in prime mess pork will be noted as the result of a small supply, and pressing export orders. In box meats there has been sometion, and preventing any increase of inland navigation. Owing, prime mess pork will be noted as the result of a small supply, and pressing export orders. In box meats there has been something of a speculative "corner," with a decided advance in prices, long clear bacon showing the most advance, but the business being principally in short clear. Lard has also decidedly advanced. The "season" for elaughtering swine at the West closed upon comparatively small stocks of the "product," while Germany and Great Britain are competing actively for supplies, and however we segree and high upon comparatively small stocks of the "product," while Germany and Great Britain are competing actively for supplies, and hogs are scarce and high.

Pork has remained steady, and late sales include new mess, for April, at $16 10@$16 15. Extra prime has sold at $13. Lard has ruled higher, with a pretty good demand; Western has sold at 8$@$$ 11.16c. for short delivery, 8$@$$ 15-16c., for May, and 9 1-16@9$c., for June. Bacon has shown a decided advance, a demand from the "shorts" causing higher prices; long clear has sold at 8$@$$ (the latter for city), and short clear at 8$@$c., for early delivery. Drysalted shoulders have been in fair demand, and have sold at 6$c.; while hams, with a moderate sale, have brought 13c. for long cut, and 11$c. for short cut. Beef has been in moderate demand and steady. Butter has been in good demand and firm, with the stock of old becoming quite reduced. Cheese has been in demand for the lower grades, which have been wanted for export, and sold at 10@14c., with prime to choice factory quoted at 16@17c. To-day pork was quiet. Lard was weak for early delivery, but June sold at 93-16c. Bacoa was firm, with sales of Cumberland at 8$c.; long clear at 9c., on spot, and 8$c., to arrive, and short clear, 9c. for both spot and arrival; drysalted shoulders held at 7c., with a sale in Chicago at 6c.

Freights have been only moderately active, but there has been some improvement in berth rates. The arrivals at this port have been larger, it is stated, than in any previous week in the history of our commerce, including 20 steamships, 25 ships, 76 barks, 43 brigs, and 31 schooners, or 195 craft in all from foregn ports.

some improvement in berth rates. The arrivals at this port have been larger, it is stated, than in any previous week in the history of our commerce, including 20 steamships, 25 ships, 76 barks, 43 brigs, and 31 schooners, or 195 craft in all from foregn ports. But many of the sail vessels were chartered before arrival, and there is no material addition to the room seeking employment. There is some advance in rates, but the higher prices of domestic products are a check upon business. Yesterday's engagements embraced grain to Liverpool by steam at 7½d. for corn, and 7½d. for wheat. Cotton at 7-16d.@½d., and bacon 40s. Wheat to London by sail 8½d. from store; grain to Cork for orders at 6s. 9d.; petroleum to Brisol, 6s. 9d., and to the Baltic 7s. To-day, to Liverpool, by steam, 1,500 bales cotton at $@7-16d., which is easier, and 750 boxes bacon 40s.; also, by sail, 1,200 bales cotton at the same rates as by steam.

Petroleum was tending upward all the week, and yesterday morning holders were firm, at 21c. for refined in bbls., 26c, for do in cases, and 10c. for crude in bulk, but there was some reaction. It is stated that a new well has been struck, yielding 600 bhls. per day. The close to-day was at 19½c. for refined in bbls. and 9½c. for crude in bulk. The following is a statement of the exports of petroleum from the United States:—

From the foregoing statement it will be seen that, compared with the corresponding week of last season, there is a decrease in the exports this week of 9,221 bales, while the stocks to-night are 128,854 bales more than they were at this time a year ago. The following is our usual table showing the movement of cotton at all the ports from Sept. 1 to March 21, the latest innil dates.

The market the past week has been without any special feature of The market the past week has been without any special feature of importance. Prices here now appear to be almost wholly under the influence of Liverpool, and the Liverpool market Indicates a pretty close following of the receipts at our ports—increased activity when they are small, and a corresponding depression when they are large. Under these influences we have had a variable and uncertain market during the week. Saturday and Monday there was a decidedly better tone, and at the close of Monday's exchange prices as compared with the previous Friday showed and advance of the for cotton on the spot and Elfector futures. But advance of \(\frac{1}{3}\)c. for cotton on the spot, and 3-16c. for futures. But on Tuesday there was again a panicky feeling, and the advance of the previous day was more than lost. Wednesday was active for both spot and future, and on Thursday the receipts began to indicate a very considerable falling off for the week as compared with the previous week, when, with a large export demand and increased buoyancy for April, May and June, quotations on the spot were advanced \(\frac{1}{2}\)c., and futures brought \(3\) 16\(\partial_{\text{\text{\text{\text{\text{\text{\text{\text{\text{\text{\text{\text{\text{\text{\text{\text{\text{\text{\text{\text{\text{\text{\text{\text{\text{\text{\text{\text{\text{\text{\text{\text{\text{\text{\text{\text{\text{\text{\text{\text{\text{\text{\text{\text{\text{\text{\text{\text{\text{\text{\text{\text{\text{\text{\text{\text{\text{\text{\text{\text{\text{\text{\text{\text{\text{\text{\text{\text{\text{\text{\text{\text{\text{\text{\text{\text{\text{\text{\text{\text{\text{\text{\text{\text{\text{\text{\text{\text{\text{\text{\text{\text{\text{\text{\text{\text{\text{\text{\text{\text{\text{\text{\text{\text{\text{\text{\text{\text{\text{\text{\text{\text{\text{\text{\text{\text{\text{\text{\text{\text{\text{\text{\text{\text{\text{\text{\text{\text{\text{\text{\text{\text{\text{\text{\text{\text{\text{\text{\text{\text{\text{\text{\text{\text{\text{\text{\text{\text{\text{\text{\text{\text{\text{\text{\text{\text{\text{\text{\text{\text{\text{\text{\text{\text{\text{\text{\text{\text{\text{\text{\text{\text{\text{\text{\text{\text{\text{\text{\text{\text{\text{\text{\text{\text{\text{\text{\text{\text{\text{\text{\text{\text{\text{\text{\text{\text{\text{\text{\text{\text{\text{\text{\text{\text{\text{\text{\text{\text{\text{\text{\text{\text{\text{\text{\text{\text{\text{\text{\text{\text{\text{\text{\text{\text{\text{\text{\text{\text{\text{\text{\text{\text{\text{\text{\text{\text{\text{\text{\text{\text{\text{\text{\text{\text{\text{\text{\text{\text{\text{\text{\text{\text{\text{\text{\text{\text{\text{\text{\text{\text{\text{\text{\text{\text{\text{\text{\text{\text{\text{\text{\text{\text{\text{\text{\text{\text{\text{\text{\text{\text{\text{\text{\text{\text{\text{\text{\text{\text{\text{\text{\text{\text{\text{\text{\text{\text{\text{\ cate a very considerable falling off for the week as compared with ing are the closing quotations to-day:

WEATHER REPORTS BY TELEGRAPH.—The weather the past WEATHER REPORTS BY TELEGRAPH.—The weather the past week has been remarkably cold throughout the South, and in most cases accompanied with considerable rain. It has been showery two days at New Orleans. At Mobile it has rained three days, and our dispatch adds that it is too cold for farm work, though it is said that planting has made good progress. It has also rained three days at Selma, and it has been so cold that they have had frost. At Montgomery, Columbus and Augusta it has rained on two days, while at Savannah and Charleston there has been no rain. Our Charleston telegram states that it has been cold and dry all the week. It has rained on three days at Memphis, on one of which days they had snow. They are having so much rain that plowing is backward. At Nashville it has so much rain that plowing is backward. At Nashville it has rained on two days, with considerable snow on one day. The thermometer at Memphis has averaged 48; at Charleston, 55; Mobile, 57; Savannab, 58; Selma, 61; Montgomery, 53; and Mobile, 57; 8 Columbus, 56.

THE COTTON CROP.—Very interesting compilations are just now being made, on the basis of the receipts thus far, to show how large or how small the present cotton crop is likely to be. We have received no new returns since our review published on the 15th of February, when we stated that the total would not in any event be less than 3,732,000 bales, intentionally leaving the impression that although the crop might not reach a higher figure the reports we had received justified a somewhat larger result. At that time we made our examination as thorough as we could, and do not propose to reopen examination as thorough as we could, and do not propose to reopen the subject. Our figures, however, were simply a reflex of the views of correspondents who have proved themselves to be very reliable, accepting no person's opinion of any section other than that of which he is personally acquainted with. Hence deductions made by comparing the movement of previous crops although tions made by comparing the movement of previous crops although they carry with them much loss weight, and are often delusive, are always interesting and frequently instructive.

For instance, a correspondent takes the receipts of the seven inland markets for the last four weeks (the actual quantities and the percentum, giving those of 1870-71, the year of the great crop, at 100) and reaches the following results:

The reason given for making this comparison is to show that, "although the impression was common the last of February that the region accessible to railways had at that time been quite thoroughly drained, yet we here see the movement, even in those sections, is very well sustained. And these statistics, taken in connection with the general admission that there is far more cotton to be received in the Southwest than there was last year, seem to justify the opinion that at least an average of the two last years can be expected for the balance of this season, and the

In connection with the foregoing figures, an interesting indication of public opinion in the Atlantic cotton States is given in the Augusta Constitutionalist of the 24th instant, which states that three hundred and fifty-seven estimates were received for the cotton pool of Augusta Exchange, and the average of them all was 3,764,880 bales.

BOMBAY SHIPMENTS.—According to our cable dispatch received to-day, there have been 16,000 bales shipped from Bombay to Great Britain the past week and 16,000 bales to the continent, while the receipts at Bombay, during the same time have been 43,000 bales. The movement since the first of January is as follows. These are the figures of W. Nicol & Co., of Bombay, and are brought down to Thursday, March 27:

Shipments this week to-Great Con-Britain tinent. Total. Firstain tinent. Total. Receipts. 1873... 16,000 10,000 26,000 196,000 67,000 263,000 43,000 1871... 19,000 19,000 151,000 66,000 217,000 52,000 1871... 19,000 19,000 151,000 66,000 217,000 52,000 BOMBAY SHIPMENTS .-According to our cable dispatch received

From the foregoing it would appear that compared with last year there is a decrease this year in the week's shipments from Bombay to all of Europe of 15,000 bales, and that the total movement since Jan. 1 shows a decrease in shipments of 133,000 bales compared with the corresponding period of 1872.

Our dispatch to-night states that the reports received at Bombay with regard to the crop are less favorable.

GUNNY BAGS, BAGGING, &c.—Bagging has ruled quiet and firm the past week, and but few sales have occurred since our last issue. We note a sale of about 600 rolls not quite standard in store here at 13c. cash, and 500 rolls more on private terms. We quote holders' prices at 13½@13½c. cash apot; 14@14½c. April and May, and 14½@15c. summer delivery. India bales are very dull and neglected. Bags remain about the same, with some inquiry. The prices asked here are 15½c. currency, duty paid. We note a sale in Boston of 250 bales at 9½c. gold, in bond; 250 bales at 15½c. currency, duty paid. Butts have ruled quiet at declining prices. We note sales 1,500 bales in Boston at 2 1-16c. cash, and 1,000 bales here reported at 2c. cash. During the week sales have been made of several lots of 250@300 bales each at 2½c. cash, and 2 3-16c. time. cash, and 2 3-16c. time.

KEY West, March 15.—The case of ship Nor Wester comes before the Court for a hearing on Monday next. About 1800 bales cotton have been saved from this vessel.

Two hundred bales cetton lightered and taken to New Orleans. She has been raised, and arrived at New Orleans March 20. The damage is ascertained to be all above water on the starboard side, forward of midships; decks ripped up and burned; deck beams and cabin badly burned. She is an old ship, and will probably be condemned to the underwriters. Her cotton damaged by water.

BREADSTUFFS.

FRIDAY P. M., March 23, 1873.

Flour has been moderately active the past week, but prices have been somewhat irregular. The trade bought fairly early in the week, but latterly this demand has fallen off, and all grades worth more than $8 have become dull. The shipping grades, including No. 2 superfine, and Western, State and city common extras, have been wanted for the British Provinces and the West Indies, mainly at $6 25 for fair superfine, $7 25@ $7 40 for good round hoop Western extras, and $7 75@$8 for "fancy" State. Some business for South America was done in Western and Southern extras, from winter wheat, at $8 25@$9. There has been some demand for Great Britain, but at low prices, and as receipts have been moderate, the limits of these orders have not been readily met, though a few lets of common Western extrss have been offered as low as $7 from the wharf. To-day there was an inactive but steady market.

The wheat market has ruled dull for several days. Early in the week half a dozen or more leads of No. 2 Spring wheat were taken for export and milling at $1 621@$1 65 for Chicago in store and afleat, and $1 70@$1 71 for Milwaukee afleat. But buyers could not go on at these prices, and business was reduced to small lots of spring received by rail, and broken parcels of winter in store, including rejected spring as low as $1 38, and No. 1 as high as $1 80, with winter wheats from $1 62} to $2 20 for red and white. The receipts of wheat at the West have for some time been largely in excess of 1872, but the visible supply is much smaller now than a year ago. To day the inactivity con, tinued, but a boat load of No. 2 Milwaukee sold at $1 68 in storeand some amber Canada at $1 721 in bond.

Indian corn has gained strength, but a slight advance has been sufficient to check the demand. The improvement was caused by better advices from Liverpool, and a falling off in receipts of new corn, especially from the South. Late sales embrace prime old mixed Western at 64½c. in store, and 66%c. afloat; new yellow Jersey and Southern at 66@664c. affoat, and new Western mixed at 66@661c. afloat. The receipts at the West continue heavy, but stocks are nowhere large, except at Chicago. To-day the market was very quiet; prime old mixed Western brought 65c. in store, but bids were generally limited to 64 c. and fair new sold at 66c. afloat.

Ryc has remained dull. Barley has ruled firm, with sales of prime to choice Western at $1 10@1 15, and prime Canada West, $1 30@1 32. But the close is quiet owing to the slew trade in Oats have been fairly active, and prices have advanced, especially for the better qualities, including white, of which the offerings have been comparatively small; but the close is barely steady, good new mixed selling at 49c., affont, and white Western 53@54c, and the latter price paid for prime old Western mixed afloat.

GROCERIES.

FRIDAY EVENING, March 28, 1878.

There has been some improvement in coffee this week, and prices on Rio are much stronger than at the time of our last report, with a slight advance on some of the lower grades. The sugar market has been rather quiet, but we repeat our last quotations on raws, and note more steadiness at the close. Refined sugar has been easier. Molasses has been quiet, and only grocery qualities are wanted. Tea is dull and unchanged. Fruits are quiet and without essential change. Nearly all of the markets have been strengthened during the past week by the advance and firmness in gold. TEA.

The condition of our market la much the same as last reported. Holders of tea, with very few exceptions, do not press their stock upon buyers, and the market remains quiet, with quotations about as before. The sales of lines have been on a limited scale, and invoices have not moved with freedom-Some of the weaker holders are willing to concede a fraction for the purpose of moving stock, and these dealers have succeeded in effecting moderate transactions. The supply in the country is not heavy, and buyers are delaying their purchases only in the hope that a further prolonged dulness may resalt in still greater depression in prices. It will require remarkably depressing influences to bring about any further decline, however, as the present rates are so low that holders can better afford to take their chances on the future course of the market, loss of interest and other expenses of carrying teas to sell. The transactions embrace 3,800 half chests Greens, 1,500 do. Japans, and 1,600 do. Oolongs.

Imports the past week have included 70,201 lbs. Black, 995,169 lbs. Green and 47,393 lbs. Japan, per "Sarah Nicholson," from Shanghai; 26,300 lbs. Green, per "Midnight," from Hong Kong; and 103,250 lbs. Black, per "Per Ardua," from Hong Kong. The indirect importations have included 100 pkgs. by steamer, and 357 do. by rail overland.

The following table shows the imports of Tea into the United States from January 1 to date, in 1873 and 1872:

The indirect receipts at New York, principally overland receipts from San Francisco, have been 15,874 pkgs. since January 1, against 54,002 last year. Imports at San Francisco from Jan. 1 to March 1, were 121,165 lbs. of China and 500,430 lbs. of Japan tea.

COFFEE.

Fellowing our last report the market ruled dull and soft until Tuesday, when the receipt of a Rio telegram, dated March 4, had a stimulating effect. The dispatch quoted the market up 100 rs, with exchange further advanced, and a decrease of about 25 per cent in the daily receipts. The stock of Rio was still reported pretty full, but the transactions on American account were not excessively heavy, and our market responded at once to the favorable report. Helders withdrew their offerings, and quotations became nominal, although bayers at once showed a disposition to purchase at the previously quoted figures The receipts of Rie have been free during the week, and a good business has been in progress toward the close, at about our last quotations, holders showing more readiness to sell than on Tuesday, but still manifesting a very strong feeling; which is aided by to-day's telegram from Rio quoting another advance of 100 rs., and a further falling off in receipts. The India grades have been in fair request, and a very strong feature of the market is a sale of 3,250 bags Laguayra and 831 bags St. Domingo on export account for Hamburg. The stocks of all grades are pretty well run down, and prices close very firm, with few essential changes. pretty well run down, and prices close very firm, with few essential changes. ### SUGAR.

The receipts afford better aclections for refiners to stock up from, and the demand for raw angars during the past week has been fair. The concession granted at the close of last week brought raw sugars down to a point where operations could be carried on more profitably by refiners, and although their goods continue to show depression, there is more disposition evident on their part to take hold of raws. Centrifugals continue to be chiefly in request, but there is an improvement perceptible in muscovados, on a basis of 8@8%c for fair to good refining. At this time last year the basis of quotations was 81/20 8%c, with gold at 110%. Now we have gold up to 118, and sugar %c below last year's prices. Refined sugars are %c below last year. The market has dropped off a fraction on these grades during the past week, and at the quotations given in our revised list there is more steadiness. Soft sugars are still rather easy, but the feeling is better than at the time of our instreport. The transactions since our last have been 4,435 hids, and 5,039 bxs. at 7%@8%c. for Mascovadoes; 9%@9%c. for Centrifugals; 7%@9%c. for Havana boxes; 1,904 haskets Batavia, ex "Nancy;" 4,619 bags Manila, ex "Horatlo," and 8,552 ex "Endeavor," both at 8c.

MOLASSES.

There has been but very little change in [tho market since our last report, and the position of affairs is destitute of remarkable features. An absence of stock snitable for boilers still restricts their purchases and prevents any activity in the trade in these grades. There is some demand, however, and increased offerings would result in a fair business. There is no call for distilling grades, and quotations on these qualities are still somewhat nominal. The market for grocery grades is moderately setive, and the trade is running largely on the prime and choice grades. The sapply of Porto Rice is some 600 hhds, and the finer grades are readily selected at very full rates. The stock of English Islands is 174 hhds, with a quiet tone prevailing. Sales of domestic bave been on a fairly liberal scale, and the supply has been reduced to 4,200 bbls. Prices are very fully maintained, with only a moderately active call at the close. The symp market shows no essential changes since our last, and prices are steady, as last quoted. Grades under 50c are most in request, but the offerings remain rather light. The sales of molasses since our last have been 26 hhds. Demerara at 53c; 250 do., 35@40c.; 125 do. Porto Rice in trade lots, mostly at 60c; 450 bbls. New Orleans within the range.

THE DRY GOODS TRADE.

FRIDAY, P. M., March 28, 1873.

There was less activity in the market during the past week than was expected, though the jobbing transactions have been on a fairly liberal scale in the aggregate, and the feeling among job bers is still fairly firm. Agents are selling only moderate amounts of goods, the dulness during the week having been rather more marked in first hands than among jobbers. The stocks held by the latter are ample to meet all their running requirements for the present, and they naturally sbrink from entering into further engagements at the moment. The trade just now is susceptible to the slightest changes in the weather, and while a few warm days will do much toward improving the condition of the trade the return of unpleasant weather again exerts a check upon sales, and the trade relapses into dulness. There have been a large number of buyers in the city from different localities in the West and South, but their purchases have been on a limited scale. The near by and local demand has been light, the disagreeable weather that has prevailed during the greater portion of the week having done much toward curtailing the local distribution. Money re mains stringent, and the effects are apparent in the quietness which is prevailing in almost all of the markets. Values remain remarkably steady, all things considered, and there are few quotable alterations.

DOMESTIC COTTON GOODS,-The decline in the cotton market has begun to affect goods, and there is a softer feeling prevailing on lines of which there is any accumulation. The lower grades of brown fabrics have weakened somewhat and are lower in some cases, although there are very few quotable changes. There is a full supply of these lower qualities, but the stock of the better grades of brown cottons remains light, and the market is very strong on these descriptions. Standards and fine browns are sold ahead in some cases, and none of the principal brands show any accumulation. The range of prices is fully sustained by the good demand and limited stocks. Bleached goods are also firm on all of the better makes, with some weakness on the lower grades, but no absolute decline. Fine 4-4 goods are a shade higher in a few instances. Drllis have sold to a fair extent in browns for home consumption, and there is some little call for blue goods for export. Colored cottons have been in very fair request and most grades are firmly held. There is an especially strong feeling on stripes of the newer patterns and demins, while ticks and other goods continue to move in limited assortments. The print trade has been restricted by the unfavorable weather that has prevailed during the week, but the distribution bas still been fairly liberal and the stocks continue very light. All of the more popular brands are largely sold ahead on their best styles, and these goods, while remaining strong, are without quotable alteration.

DOMESTIC WOOLEN GOODS.—There has been a better inquiry for light weight woolens in a jobbing way, and the supplies of fancy woolens in the finer grades has been considerably reduced during the week. From first hands the business has been light, and the market is wholly unchanged. Low grades of woolens are weak, in consequence of the accumulation of stock. There has been a moderate call from clothing manufacturers here and elsewhere for heavy goods, but their purchases have not become at all spirited as yet. The demand for flannels has been light, although jobbers continue to sell moderate amounts of whites and blues. Beavers, doeskins and overcoatings are quiet at unchanged figures. American dress goods sell to a fair extent in all of the principal brands and remain very firm. Hosiery is in good request and steady.

Foreign Goods.—The dulness in trade has been instrumental in curtailing the orders from our importers for fresh lines of goods, and the arrivals show a very marked decline. Our supplies of imported fabrics are therefore running low, and there is a prospect that, notwithstanding the backwardness of trade, the season will close with the market in a fair condition. There is a moderate call for goods from first hands, and the jobbing trade shows considerable animation. The foreign markets remain very firm, and prices are pretty well maintained here. The auction houses continue to be well supplied with goods, and the sales pass off with considerable animation.

GENERAL GRANT IN NEW YORK.

In conformity with general desire, President Grant has decided to visit New York himself at this crisis, and he is here to see with his own eyes and to hear with his own ears the symptoms of the most protracted monetary pinch which has been known for a quarter of a century. This is doubtless one of the objects he has in view in coming at so unusual a season. Report says that he is already beset by a multitude of advisers, all eager to have their tactics adopted for the subjugation of the recalcitrant stringency of the loan market.

Of course, the inflationists muster in great strength around the President, and if he were disposed to yield his judgment to the majority of those who approach him, he would no doubt believe in a larger or smaller amount of tampering with the currency as a panacea for the present

But the country is now getting somewhat weary of these clamors for more greenbacks. Such cries for forbidden re- started none of these rumors. On the contrary, since he lief are nothing new; we have had them before. Other countries approaching a specie basis have suffered in the same way. It is a law of resumption that it can be made perfect only through suffering; but in our case the present trouble is enhanced, and almost wholly caused, by a set of reckless speculators, who make money tight by artificial means, that they may provoke the public to ask for these issues of greenbacks.

These men well know that if they can gain success, and if more greenbacks are issued, everything in Wall street will go flying. Prices will rise violently. After a further lapse of time there will be a sudden and hurried fall. Then another furious advance. An atmosphere of turbid excitement will thus be generated, which is so favorable to speculators. For of them we may say, as Tacitus says of a certain class of politiciaus, "facilius turbidis et inquietis temporibus exstiterunt." They have the best chance when the monetary turmoil is at the worst. These inflationists, who are rich and restless, are busy preparing the way for an artificial excitement in stocks and gold during the summer, after the severe depression of the winter. They know the hope of such speculation is very slim without greenbacks, but that with infliction of the currency it is sure. If the President has a mind to listen to these men and their emissaries, he will need no other callers to fill up the whole time of his visit to New York.

But there are a few persons who will gain the ear of General Grant, and will tell him what the masses of the conservative people now think, and what everybody will be ready to acknowledge before long, that the stringency which has lasted six months is sure before long to terminate by its own limitation; -that it cannot possibly be drawn out many days longer; -that the cliques are straining every nerve to keep it up even at this moment; -that to issue greenbacks now would be to create untold mischief, and to give an evil remedy for a disease that is already curing itself. Which of these advisers he will listen to remains to be

Even if he is willing to be led by those who point out the mischiefs that new issues of currency must let loose on the country he cannot wholly undo the harm that has been lately done. Among the most prolific sources of evil which trouble the prosperity of business, one of the chief, for some time past, has been the state of uncertainty which has been induced by the constant repetition of these reports. This week they have taken a new form, and declare that 5 to 10 millions of new greenbacks are actually at the Sub-Treasury here awaiting issue.

This uncertainty some persons charge on Mr. Richardson! who is certainly not wholly to blame; for officially he has became chief in the Treasury department he has maintained a proper reticence as to such problematical and dangerous topics, and he has given a full publicity to the daily business in his department. The lessons taught by the unfortunate effects of the argument put forth in his book claiming power to issue greenbacks will not probably be lost on a mind as careful and safe as Mr. Richardson's.

The harm done by these rumors is easily understood. Every merchant, manufacturer, or ordinary man of business argues the matter pretty much in the same way. " If we are to have an issue of greenbacks," says he, "then everything I deal in will go up. I may buy freely and everything I buy will rise in price, so that my profits will be sure and ample beyond the usual average." Such is his argument when he hears that new greenbacks are to come out. But let us see how he argues on the other side, the next day when he hears that no greenbacks are to be issued. "In this case," says he, " I must contract and narrow down my liabilities. Money will not be very easy, and I must be careful not to let my outgo exceed my means. Prices will not be so buoyant. Goods will not be forced up by artificial causes beyond their current value. There is no inducement for me to enter into speculative purchases, but the sternest warning to limit my transactions within my legitimate capital." Such are the alternate fluctuations by which greenback rumors disturb the plans of our merchants who have capital to invest. If they have bills to pay their financial arrangements are thrown into still greater confusion by these repeated oscillations of public opinion, and by the effort to meet the probable exigencies of future currency derangement.

We have not even hinted at half the trouble that these greenbacks have inflicted on the country by the meratumor of their possible issue. So heavy are these losses, and such a use has been made of the greenback rumors by speculators, that there are even men of considerable sagacity and conservative habits who have expressed the opinion that any certainty is better than this continued suspense, and that if the same uncertainty is to remain; -if the President is determined to claim the power to inflate the currency, and is ready to risk the consequences; -it would be for the good of the country if he would issue the whole sum at once, to the full length of his powers, so that the people may know where they are. We by no means indorse the advice of these groups of advisers who daily enliven the President's levee; but, like the witnesses in a complicated trial, each of these classes of men is worth hearing, and testifies sometimes unconsciously and often unwillingly, but always with earnestness, to an important part of the truth. Should the President decide that our monetary trouble is on the point of healing, and that his interference in the methods proposed would do more harm than good, he will not be very wide of the mark.

LONG CREDITS AND COMMERCIAL FAILURES.

There is one reason for the high rates of interest recently prevailing in our loan market, which has not had so much attention as it seems to demand. We learn that for some time past longer credits have been given in this city to merchants in the South and West than have been regarded as safe since the war. The Chronicle has often showed that the short credit system is one of the indispensable parts of our financial mechanism. If it be true that the two months or three months' credits which used to be the limit are giving place to those of 4 or 6 or 8 months, our merchants and jobbers and their bankers will have occasion to regret this retrograde policy.

About five or six years ago, as our files will show, a similar extension of credits was attempted and made some progress, but was promptly rebuked as unsafe and involving too much risk. It was checked at that time; and short credits were continued; but the bad habit has once more begun, and throughout the past year a larger volume of such long credits were reported than for a considerable period before. The consequences of this new policy may be seen in the subjoined list of failures during the last year as comared with the two previous years:

A more significant illustration of the working of these long credits could scarcely be found. The first point which commands notice is the immense increase in the aggregate sum for which the insolvents failed. This sum wea 121 millions in 1872, against 85 millions in 1871, and 88 millions in 1870. A part of this increase is doubtless due to the fires at Boston in October, 1872, and at Chicago a year earlier. For the Massachusetts failures reached 25 millions in 1872, against 8 millions in 1871, and those of Illinois were 11 millions in 1872, against 6 millions in 1871. It is more satisfactory to find that in the State of New York the failures remain at the aggregate of 20 millions for each of the last three years. This suggests the inference, which we know from other sources to be correct, that the expansion of credits is not so great in this State or in the East, or in the near-by trade, as in that of the Sonthern and Western States.

Thus the failures in Alabama increased $525,000 in 1871 to $1,501,000 in 1872; in Georgia from $964,000 to $1,293,-000, in Kentucky from $1,163,000 to $2,059,000, in Louisi ana from $2,437,000 to $3,100,000, in Missouri from $1,995,000 to $2,670,000, in Maryland from $1,194,000 to $5,045,000, in Michigan from $1,521,000 to $2,720,000, in Tennessee from $369,000 to $1,438,000, and in Wisconsin from $386,000 to $1,127,000. Such a general and widely diffused increase of failures during the year indicates that some general causes are at work to produce it. And among these a conspicuous place is no doubt claimed by the system of long credits, to which we have referred. These credits have been conceded from an anxiety among our mercantile classes to force business and to offer inducements to country buyers to purchase. If such enlarged credit continues to be given, and this policy be allowed to establish itself as the rule of mercantile dealing, we shall part with one of the important and not too numerous safeguards we have long enjoyed against financial revulsions.

But as we have said this expansion of mercantile credits

...th its resulting dangers has in part arisen from the high rates of interest which our merchants have had to pay for the money they use in their business. To keep this " dear' money moving was a needful condition for the payment of such rates for its use. Being under so heavy a charge for monetary accommodation they were forced to send out their drummers and to use every appliance to sell goods. They were tempted to overstep the prudent line which the experience of years had drawn against expansive credits, and they trusted their customers more freely in order to increase their business and keep in constant circulation the capital for the hire of which they had to pay so much. We trust the warnings of the past will suffice, and that we shall see indications that this costly and dangerous habit of undue expansion and of granting long credits is discarded. It has a tendency not only to foster the causes of commercial failures, but it undermines the strength of the financial situation in many other ways.

FREE RAILROADS IN NEW JERSEY.

Railroad extension has just won a signal triumph in New Jersey. After a thorough examination of the whole question, and a discussion of it from all sides and by all classes of people interested in the commerce ot that State, the Legislature have passed the General Railroad law. The Governor has signed it, and it is now in full force. New Jersey has thus set an example to other States that, like herself, have submitted from necessity to concede for a time extraordinary powers and valuable privileges to railroads. The original object of these concessions was of course that these public highways of commerce might build themselves up and become thoroughly efficient as distributors and creators of the National wealth. In New York, Pennsylvania, Illinois, and in many States, both North and South, our people adopted this liberal policy in the infancy of railroads; but there are ominous murmurs all over the country that the time has come for a change. This new movement being inevitable, care must be taken to control it by the principles of equity, and of enlightened regard both for vested rights and for the public good.

These fundamental canons of reform have been followed in this legislation by New Jersey. Vested rights have been cared for, and not a hand touched the old contract which has made the Camden & Amboy Railroad so notorious for years, not a hostile movement was made till this charter had legally expired, and the State, could with honor get rid of the conditions indorsed by the people in poorer days, as the only means of getting capital subscribed for a through railroad at all.

As to the safeguards of the public the measure appears to be carefully drawn. Its chief provisions are, first, that "no franchise heretofore granted to construct a railroad, or to build or establish bridges or ferries, or operate any line of travel, and take tolls or fares therefor, shall hereafter continue to be or be construed to remain exclusive, and that no like franchise hereafter granted shall be or be construed to be exclusive, unless in such grant heretofore made or hereafter to be made it be so expressly provided."

Secondly, it prescribes the following simple regulations for the organizing of new railroad companies. The number of incorporators requisite to form a new railroad company is fixed at thirteen, a majority of whom must be residents of the State. Their articles of agreement shall name the termini of the road and the counties through which it is to run. They must state their aggregate of capital stock at not less than ten thousand dollars for every mile, with the privilege to issue bonds not exceeding the amount of the paid-up capital stock. When at least two thousand dollars | York.

for every mile of road is subscribed and ten per cent. paid in eash, an affidavit to that effect and setting forth that it is intended in good faith to build a road must be appended to the articles of agreement and filed for record in the office of the Secretary of State. That filing constitutes the charter. The construction of the road must be begun within six months after the date of organization. If the road is not more than fifty miles long a track shall be ready for use in two years; if more than fifty miles, six moaths additional are allowed for every twenty miles.

Thirdly, there are the needful provisions as to entry on lands. And any new company organizing under this law is authorized to lease its property or to merge and consolidate with any connecting line. All connecting roads are required to transport all goods and passengers for each other. Passenger tickets are good until used, and the police arrangements of the roads are carefully prescribed.

We are not so sanguine as to contend that the bill is quite as perfect as some of its promoters suppose. But it is undoubtedly the best that could be passed; and like our own General Railroad law it will doubtless receive successive amendments as experience may show their necessity. It is no small satisfaction for the friends of legislative purity that the disgraceful corruption is at an end which has been fostered of late years at Treaton by the special charters concocted and urged forward for the very purpose of being sold out to the "monopolists." This is an important point gained, and justifies us in congratulating New Jersey on her recent triumph.

We are often told that among the numerous evils iaflicted on us by our paper money inflation, one of the worst and the most threatening to the political and material future of the country is the growth of huge monopolies, rings, corporations, and cliques. To confirm this view we are pointed to the price of the two prime necessaries of life, fuel and food, which is every year more completely regulated by railroad corporations, while a similar control over the money market and over the premium on gold is held at critical seasons by a little knot of sovereign capitalists. We are by no means disposed to approve the violent fears of our foreboding friends against these movements of large masses of capital. The doctrines well known in mechanics, founded on the composition and resolution of forces, have their counterpart in the domain of finance. The resultant is very different from any single force which has combined to produce it, and a sailor can thus win even contrary winds to impel his ship in her course. So is it with our financial barque. What it wants is good seamanship.

The experience of life, and the testimony of history show us that all abuses when they culminate tend to produce a reaction against them Thus in finance as at sea, the most contrary winds, with good seamanship, help us toward port. The success of the railroad fight in New Jersey illustrates other aspects of the great principle, which we omit for the present. The chief use we make of it now is to illustrate the two cardinal maxims which must rule over all similar reforms. The first maxim is a respect for vested interests, and for the security of private property; and the second an enlightened and unswerving regard for the public rights. What these rights are in the case of New Jersey and her railroads everybody knows. They begin and end with the freedom to build railroads and to work them as extensively as capital will construct them; the freedom to open new connections as fast as they are needed by the great States on the Atlantic seaboard; the freedom to give an unrestricted passage for commerce between the interior States and the port of New

THE MAINE CENTRAL RAILROAD.

The Maine Central Railroad, and the several leased roads operated in connection with it, cover the south middle portion of the State of Maine, and form an important section of the great through line between Boston, Mass. and Halifax, Nova Scotia. They reach, in fact, every important town between Portland and Bangor, at the former connecting with the roads to Boston, and at the latter with the European and North American Railroad, which, passing through the eastern part of Maine, is continued into and through the British provinces to Halifax, having termini of its own on the harbors of Portland, Bath, Belfast and Bangor.

Up to 1870 this corporation, a wide guage road (a consolidation in 1862 of the Androscoggin & Kennebec and Penohscot & Kennebec), had comparatively an unimportant existence. Extending simply from Bangor to Danville Junction, it had no eastern terminus, but was compelled to reach Portland from Danville over the Grand Trunk, with only such accommodations at Portland as could be conceded by that road. The result of such an arrangement was that the Maine Central was obstructed in the movement of its trains and cramped and restricted in its terminal facilities. At the same period the Portland & Kennebec Railroad (with a guage 561 inches), extending from Portland to Skowhegan, and crossing the Maine Central at Kendall's Mills. had ample accommodations at Portland, but had no connection with the east except over the Central. These roads were substantially equal in length, in cost, equipment, and in business; alone each was defective, but united these defects were all well supplied, making one through company from Bangor to Portland; with such natural advantages to a union existing, its final accomplishment could not be prevented. Hence, on the 12th of May, 1870, a contract of consolidation was executed between these two roads; and during that year the guage was made uniform, the American width of 56½ inches, the same as the Portland & Kennebec hitherto had been, being adopted. A short piece of road was also built between Danville Junction (the terminus of the Maine Central up to that time) and Cumberland Statiou, on the Portland & Kennebec. By these changes the Maine Central was provided with two roads between Portland and Bangor, of uniform guage, so that the same cars and engines can now pass freely from Boston to beyond their eastern terminus, making the road the connecting link between the States and the eastern outlying British Provinces.

The arrangement made between these two roads is not absolutely a consolidation—the working organization has been fully merged, but there is still a technical corporate existence under their charters of the separate organizations. This is made necessary because the Maine Legislature has hitherto refused to permit the dissolution of the old corporations. In June, 1871, a lease for 999 years of the Androscoggin Railroad (which included the unexpired term of the lease of the Leeds & Farmington road) was executed; and subsequently arrangements were made by which the latter road also became permanently a part of the consolidated line. In 1871 a lease was also obtained of the Belfast & Moosehead Railroad for fifty years, so that the system now consists of—

The prosperity of this company since the union above described was completed has been very marked. The roadway has been greatly improved, the rolling stock increased, and new and expensive bridges and station houses have been built. During the past year ten new bridges were built, new iron was laid to the extent of 31.73 miles, and re-rolled iron to the extent of 18.09 miles. There were also laid 3.86 miles of new side tracks. Five new locomotives were put on the roads, and 13 old ones thoroughly repaired. The additions to the car department were 42 box and 200 flat freight and construction cars; and 246 passenger and merchandize cars were thoroughly overhauled. The increase in the passenger traffic in 1872 over 1871 was 87,708 travelers, and the increase in the freight traffic was 41,839 tons. The nett earnings show an increase of $135,267. This is an encouraging result, and if continued the company will soon have the ability to pay dividends on all classes of stocks named in the subjoined list of their liabilities.

FINANCIAL REVIEW OF THE MONTH OF MARCH.

The general trade of the city during the month of March was scarcely better than in February, and the spring prespects, up to the close, were not particularly promising. Some alleviation of the stringency in money had been expected from the call of the Comptroller of the Currency for a statement of the condition of the banks on the 28th of February, but the banks were unable to expand materially, and could do little for their customers, although their aggregate returns were below the required 25 per cent reserve during most of the month. On Saturday, the 8th lustant, they were under $204,875, and on the 15th instant $261,259, but on the 22d they had, through the gain in specie, recovered their surplus and held $217,225 in excess, which again sank on the 29th to the extent of $217,225 deficiency. 'This deficiency rests entirely with the State banks, the national banks at the last date showing an excess of $656,450. The Treasury aid to the banks, through the issue of part of the $44,000,000 drawn in during the administration of Mr. McCulloch, has been to the extent of something over $2,000,000, the legal tenders outstanding on Monday, March 31, being $358,300,000. Despite this assistance, however, the stringency of the month was remarkable, and scarcely a day passed during which a bonus, ranging from 1.64 to 1-16 of one per cent, has not been paid. The closing day of the month showed almost a panic in the money market, the highest rate on call leans reaching #@1 per cent for the use of money for twenty-four hours. The foreign bankers have fer some time past liberally extended their credits to stock speculators by lending their 60 day sterling bills, which are threwn upon the market by the latter to obtain currency for their operations. This has been carried to a pretty heavy extent, and has elicited considerable disapproval from the London press. For the pur pose of checking this movement, as well as to meet the drain of bullion caused by the French indemnity payments, the Bank of England on the 25th made an advance of 1 per cent in its dis count rate to 4 per cent.

Other influences of minor importance which worked against the money market were the failure of the Bull's Head Bank, the circulation of a limited amount of forged certificates of certain railroad stocks deposited as collaterals, and the operation of the Treasury sales and purchases which took about $3,000,000 of currency out of the street. It is a source of congratulation that neither panic or important failures followed this unusual stringency.

The government bond market moved quietly during the early part of the month, without any special variation in prices. About the fifteenth a buying movement set in, coming principally from New England capitalists, who are led to invest their money in this class of securities for the purpose of avoiding taxation on property held April 1. There was also an upward reaction in the London market. The Secretary issued the amended call for fifty millions five-twenties of 1862, on the 1st of March, interest to cease June 1. Of the general market it may be stated that the street is pretty well swept of bonds, and round lots were difficult to obtain. The strength eithe market continued until near the close, being further supported by the rise in gold, but the final stringency in money gave prices a weaker tone, and the menth closed with some reaction from the best prices reached.

The railway speculation was dull during the greater portion of the month, the money market affording no sufficient reasons for an active upward movement in any direction; while the strength of the parties controlling the leading shares rendered comparatively futile any demonstrations for lower prices. In certain specialties movements have been important, depending more upon particular causes for their success than upon general ones. Pacific Mail was the feature at the close of February, having broken down to 55½, and the movement was continued into March, the price touching 49. A bull movement was subsed quently projected in this stock, which carried the price back again to 62, though from that point it ceased to be a feature. St-Paul made a steady advance of  $8\frac{7}{8}$  per cent up to  $60\frac{7}{8}$ , on the reported cession of a valuable land grant to the company by the State of Wiscensin and some talk of a pooling of earnings with the Northwestern Road. New York Central and Harlem were active on negotiations looking to the lease of the Harlem Road. Eris moved in sympathy with the pulsations of London, while Boston, Hartford & Erie was nearly extinguished by the decision of the United States Court at Boston. The final severity in money and the construction placed upon the policy of the new Secretary of the Treasury gave prices a weak tone at the close of the mouth.

The following table will show the opening, highest, lowest and closing prices of railway and miscellaneous stocks during the months of February and March:

The gold movement, while steadily advancing from day to day was most important in its speculative character on the last day of the month, when it had reached the high figure of 118§ as against 114§ on the first day. Among the various causes contributing to the advance we may notice the change on the 25th in the rate of discount at the Bank of England, which came very unexpectedly. Up to that time the price had not risen above 1161, but the small supply of gold as compared with former our excessive importations; an expectation of an additional issue of greenbacks; the large outstanding short in terest, and the heavy speculative backing of the market, all con spired to force up the premium to the above mentioned figure.

The Foreign Exchanges were greatly affected by rising gold and the monetary stringency. The demand from importers has been checked for the above reasons, and remittances were therefore postponed wherever it was possible. The course of rates was also influenced to some extent by the borrowed bills already, and yet to be, settled for, these being thrown upon the market at concessions varying from 1 to 1 per cent from the asking rates of the standard drawers. The advanced discount rate at London gave temporarily a better tone to sterling, but at the close the entire market was again demoralized by the difficulties in money and high price of gold, and bills were obtainable much below the nominal quotations.

CURRENT TOPICS.

THE NEW COINAGE ACT.—The United States Coinage Act, passed February 12th, 1873, went into operation on the 1st of this month. This measure has for its object the securing of an international coinage of silver for the use of the civilized countries of the world. The following is the new coinage authorized by this

Sec. 14. That the gold coins of the United States shall be a one dollar piece, which, at the standard weight of twenty-five and eight-tenths grains, shall be the unit of value; a quarter eagle, or two and s-half dollar piece; a three dollar piece; u half eugle, or five dollar piece; an eagle, or ten dollar piece; and a double eagle, or twenty dollar piece. And the standard weight of the gold dollar shall be twenty-five and eight-tenths grains; of the quarter eagle, or two and a-half dollar piece, sixty-four and a-half grains; of the tree dollar piece, seventy-seven and four-tenths grains; of the half eagle, or five dollar piece, one hundred and twenty-sine grains; of the eagle, or ten dollar piece, two hundred and fifty-eight grains; of the double eagle, or twenty dollar piece, five hundred and sixteen grains.

Sec. 15.—That the silver cottst of the United States shall be a trade dollar, a half dollar, or fifty-cent piece, a quarter dollar, or twenty-five cent piece, a dime, or ten-cent piece, and the weight of the trade dollar shall he four hundred and twenty grains troy; the weight of the half dollar shall he twelve grams (grammes) and one half of a gram (gramme); the quarter dollar and the dime shall be, respectively, one-half and one-fifth of the weight of said half dollar; and said coins shall be a legal tender at their nominal value for any amount not exceeding five dollars in any one payment.

Sec. 16.—That the minor coins of the United States shall be a five cent piece, a three cent piece and a one cent piece, and the alloy for the five and three cent pieces shall be of copper and nickel, to be composed of three-fourths copper and one-fourth nickel, and the alloy af the one cent piece child be ninety-five per centum of copper and five per centum of the and zine, in such proportions as shall be determined by the Director of the Miut. The weight of the piece of five cents shall be per centum of the and zine, in such proportions as shall be determined by the Director of the Miut. The dredths grains, troy; of the three cent piece, thirty grains; and of the one cent piece, forty-eight grains; which coins shall be a legal tender, at their nominal value, for any amount not exceeding twenty-five cents is any one payment.

The principal changes made are the internationalization of the silver half dollar by fixing its weight at 121 metrical grammes, so that two half dollars are precisely equal to the five franc coin of Europe and its equivalents; and the providing for the coinage, solely for the purpose of commerce and not for currency, of a heavy silver trade dollar, to weigh 420 grains, exceeding in value by 27-100 of one cent the Mexican dollar. This will cause the new "trade" dollar in a short time to command a premium, and eventually to supplant the Mexican dollar largely used in commerce with the Oriental nations on the Pacific. It is also believed that this premium will advantageously affect the price of our silver bullion, the yearly product of which, as stated in the official report to the Secretary of the Treasury made in November last, by Dr. Linderman, former Director of the Philadelphia Mint, and Prof. Torrey, Chief of the Assay office in New York, "has been increasing in the last three years and now amounts to twenty million dollars."

The slight addition made by the act of less than one half of one per cent to the 192 grains, the lately existing weight of the half dollars of the United States makes them exactly one half the existing weight of the principal silver coin in a large number of the nations of continental Europe, to wit: The five-franc silver coin of France, of Belgium, and of Switzerland; the five-livre coin of France, of Belgium, and of Switzerland; the five-livre silver coin of Italy; the five-peseta silver coin of Spain; the five-drachma silver coin of Greece, and precisely equal in weight to the new silver florin of Austria. Thus the metrical internationalization of our half dollar will allow it to pass unchanged in name and without recoinage, bearing the emblems of our Republic throughout the majority of the nations of Europe.

LONDON, Saturday, March 22, 1873.

Notwithstanding the liabilities of the Bank have increased, its position has somewhat improved since last week. Both the builion and the reservo have been augmented to a slight extent, and hence the increase of liabilities has been counteracted by larger resources, the proportion of reserve to liabilities, which was about 421 per cent, being now about 43 per cent. Under these circumstances the Directors of the Bank have made no change in their rates of discount, the minimum quotation being still at 33 per cent. The payment of the Imperial taxes continues rapid, the amount of public money held by the Bank being as much as £16,338,588, which is one of the heaviest if it is not the heaviest total known. The larger proportion of the taxes has now been paid, so that all apprehended difficulties under that head will be removed; and not only will this be the case, but in the course of a few weeks, that is to say early in April, a considerable proportion of the money now locked up at the Bank will be distributed to the public in the shape of dividends on the National stocks. Judging from this, the belief is prevalent that the tendency to dearer money will be checked, at least temporarily, as one source of demand will have been removed, while at the same time a fresh source of supply will have been created. It may also be remarked that the commercial demand, in its strict sense is not so active as it was, and it is considered to be more than probable that there will be no immediate revival of it. In fact the very general impression is that the cause producing dearer money will be not a commercial but a financial demand; and should that be the ease, the advance may be not only unexpected but rapid, while, like as on former occasions, the rebound will be at an equally quick pace, as the requirements, though large will be only of a temporary character.

The demand for money during the week has been good, and the Bank return shows an increase in "other securities" of £764,000, raising the total to £25,159,123, which is considerably ahove that of former years. The reserve and the stock of bulllon are both large, and this naturally gives the bank a strong position. The amount of money seeking employment in the open market is small, as the bank possesses, as usual at this period of the year, by far the larger proportion of floating capital. Since the present government's accession to power, money during the first three months of the year has been cheaper, so that the full effect of the present system of collecting so large an amount of taxation at that period has not been felt. At seme period, no doubt, the year will open with dearer money, and it is more than probable that great inconvenience will be caused by locking up so large an amount as £16,000,000. The present state of things leads already to considerable discussion. In the open market money is scarce enough to justify a higher rate than 31 per cent, but as the bank has an ample supply, the directors are willing to take any number of good bills at that price. Thus it would appear that the Bank has now the lion's share of the discount business. The following are the present quotations for money:

It will be noticed that the German markets are firm, the open market being fully equivalent to the official rates of discount.

Bills on France and Germany have been in demand, and are firmer in price, but in other respects the foreign exchanges are without material alteration. Gold continues in demand for ex port, but the inquiry is not sufficient'y pressing to necessitate any withdrawals of importance from the Bank. Silver and dollars have been in fair request, and the quotations are without ma terial variation. The following prices of bullion are from the circular of Messrs, Pixley, Abell, Langley Blake:

The stock markets have not been unimated, but the value of British railway shares has further improved. Numerous "bear" accounts have been closed, the necessity of it being obvious when it was ascertained last week that during the recent depression the bona fide holders of stocks were not large sellers. The American market has been on the whole steady. Government bonds have not materially changed in value, and Eric shares and Atlantic and Great Western accurities show no especial movement; but Illinois Central have been dull and declined in value. The scrip of the French lean gave way during the early part of the week," notwithstanding that the negotiations for an earlier evacuation of French territory by the Germans had terminated satisfactorily. The Paris Bourse, however, was very depressed, there being an idea that the Government would be compelled to raise a fresh loan this year in order to allow the new treaty to be carried out. The Government intimate that no loan will be necessary, and this has had a good effect, the scrip of the last loan having risen to six premium. The Stock Exchange being closed to-day with a view to hasten the extension works in progress, the following were the closing prices of consols and the principal American stocks yesterday:

At a meeting held on Thursday of the shareholders of the Grand Trunk Railway a proposal to issue £10,000,000 of ordinary stock at a discount not exceeding 80 per cent was adopted, with only three dissentients. The object of this scheme is to pay off some of the preference bondholders, and to improve the general position of the undertaking.

Messrs. Baring Brothers have issued the prospectus of a 6 per cent loan for £200,000 at 93 per cent for the Eastern Railroad of Massachusetts. Interest accrues from the 1st of April, and is payable half yearly on April 1 and October 1. The principal is to be repaid in twenty years. A sinking fund of 1 per cent per annum will be employed to purchase the bonds when below par the company reserving the right to increase the amount to be so employed.

The great strike in South Wales has been brought to a close, the men having at length gone to work on the employers terms. Since the commencement of the strike the men have sacrificed in wages as much as £800,000, and the sufferings have been severe; but yet, remarks the Times correspondent in his concluding letter, "from the first day of the strike to the last, the quietness of the people has been something to excite astonishment and attention. In the midst of the severest weather which we have experienced in this part of the country for many years, with neither money, food nor fuel, except what others gave them, thousands of hungry people, men, women and children, have preserved the utmost order and prepricty of behavior. Not a single policeman has been sent to assist the ordinary force. Another striking circumstance may be mentioned. Not even the poorest among them would sacrifice his independence by accepting the relief of the Poor Law Guardians: and contrary to general expectation, the strike has made no appreciable difference in the burdens of the taxpayers. On the other hand, this position has been maintained by a large propertion of the men at the expense of a heavy discount of their credit." The Postmaster at Merthys will long remember the strike, and is no doubt glad at its termination, for since the movement began 400,000 words have been sent away from that office alone, chiefly to the newspaper press.

The wheat trade has been without activity, but good and fine qualities of foreign produce have been in steady consumptive demand at, in some instances, a slight advance in price. The Continental markets are also firm for the better qualities of grain with an upward tendency in the quotations. The weather cold, and a week of dry weather has enabled the farmers to make considerable progress with agricultural work. Vegetation is far from forward, but so early in the season this may be looked upon as a hopeful sign.

Chesapeake & Ohio Ruilroad .- The Chesapeake & Ohio Railconespeake & Onio Railfond.—The Chesapeake & Onio Railfond, which was opened a few weeks since, is now in practical through operation for freights and passengers. At Richmond, the eastern terminus, it connects with lines leading south to Charleston, Savannah, Wilmington, Norfolk, and with the Old Dominion line of steamships at New York. At Gordonsville it connects with the railroad lines for Washington, Baltimore & Philadelphia. At Huntington, on the Ohio River, the western terminus, it connects with daily lines of steam preckets to Cincipnal and points further with daily lines of steam packets to Cincinnatl and points further West. A regular schedule of through freight rates has been West. A regular schedule of through freight rates has been established, and large shipments of provisions and bulk freights are already being made to and from Cincinnati and Louisville. The coal traffic between the Kanawha mines and the scaboard, and between the mines and the Western cities, is rapidly rising in importance. The best gas and steam coals known to the United States are found along the line of the Chesapeake and Ohio road in its course through. West Virginia. The requirements of the coastwise ports will be large, and the high price of coal and iron in England is leaving more and more room for the United States to supply the fael to distant ports, of late furnished exclusively by English mines.

FRIDAY EVENING April 4, 1873.

The Money Market .- The past week has been one of extraordinary excitement in the money market, and the rate of interest on call leans advanced on Monday and Tuesday till the enormous figure was reached of 2 of one per cent. per day, and in some exceptional cases even 1 per cent. per day was reported to have been paid. This culmination in the monetary stringency which has been noticed for a long time past is apparently the result of natural causes assisted by artificial manipulations. The scarcity of money in the banks was aggravated by the withdrawal of considerable deposits on or about the first of April for remittance to the county or for our city treasury, and this drain, coming at the same time with a very active speculation in gold, so depleted the market as to make it unusually sensitive to the slightest speculative pressure. Under these circumstances the bear operators in stocks had an opportunity to force the most severe stringency, and quickly took advantage of it with the result above mentioned. On Monday the range in call leans was 1.32@1.16 per day, afterward advancing up to 2, and closing at § @# per day. On Tuesday, from 1@1 per cent. in the morning, advancing to $\mathbb{a}_4^2$, and declining after bank hours to $\frac{1}{2}\mathbb{a}_1^2$ per cent.

On Wodnesday the range was substantially as follows: \$\frac{1}{2}\text{ declining}\$ On Wednesday the range was substantially as follows on Wednesday the range was substantially as follows:  $\frac{1}{3}$  decining to  $\frac{1}{5}$ , up again to  $\frac{2}{5}$ , down to 7 gold, up again to  $\frac{1}{3}$  per cent. On Thursday the highest rates were  $\frac{2}{5}$ @ $\frac{1}{3}$  per cent., and in the afternoon  $\frac{1}{3}$ @ $\frac{2}{5}$ , with some transactions down to 7 gold after tank hours. To-day, Friday, the rates have been  $\frac{1}{3}$ ,  $\frac{1}{3}$ ,  $\frac{1}{3}$ ,  $\frac{1}{5}$ ,  $\frac{1}{5}$ ,  $\frac{1}{5}$ , and at the close  $\frac{1}{3}$ - $\frac{3}{3}$ 2. There has been at times almost a fever of the Transury would or excitement as to whether the Secretary of the Treasury would or would not issue more greenbacks, but up to the date of writing he has given no information that further issue would be made.

Business in commercial paper has naturally been checked by the extraordinary movements above noticed, and transactions are but nominal.

No turther advance has been made in the Bank of England rate, although money in London is decidedly firmer and rates in rate, although money in London is decidedly firmer and rates in the open market were higher to-day than the bank minimum, which remains at 4 per cent.; the bank loses this week £640,000 in bullion. The Bank of France gains in specie 3,500,000 francs. The last statement of our city banks (March 29) showed a decrease in the reserves of $594,425, so as to leave a deficiency of $377,200 below the 25 per cent. required by law, against an excess of $217,225 the previous week. United States Bonds.-Government securities have been pretty well maintained, considering the high rates for money which have effectually checked any large business. It may be which have effectually checked any large business. It may be considered somewhat remarkable that there has not been more selling to realize by parties who were obliged to get money during the late spasmodic stringency, but the sales of that sort have not been of great extent, and prices already show a recovery from the decline made at the height of the monetary pressure.

There has recently been some buying on foreign account, part of the bonds being taken on buyers' 60 days option.

During April the Treasury will purchase only $1,000,000 of bonds; $500,000 on the 9th, and $500,000 on the 23d.

State and Railroad Bonds.—There has naturally been but a moderate business in State bonds, even in Tennessees, the leading specialty of the market; the prices of these bonds to-day, both old and new, was 80@801. Virginia consols, ex-interest, sold at Railroad bonds have maintained their prices better than might have been expected, although the volume of business has been but moderate. A damaging statement in regard to American railroad bonds in default for interest in Germany appeared this week in several of the daily newspapers, giving the following list of such bonds viz. list of such bonds, viz.:

| Alabama, Chattaneega Railread                   | $4,700,000 |
| East Tennessee, Virginia and Georgia            | 3,500,000   |
| Fort Wayne, Mancie and Cincinnati               | 1,800,000   |
| Georgia aid bonds (Brunswick & Albany Railroad) | 8,880,000   |
| Des Moines Valley                               | 7 000 000   |
| Oregon and California                           | 10,950,000  |
| remosular                                       | 1,500,000   |
| Rockford, Rock Island and St. Loais             | 9,000,000   |
| Port Royal                                      | 2,500,000   |

This was immediately contradicted as to the East Tennessee, Virginia and Georgia, the Port Royal, and the Oregon and California roads, by their officers or financial agents, and it is but justice to those companies to refer to the subject here for the purpose of reiterating their denials of the unjust charge. If we deduct the amounts covered by these three roads the sum total of the above railroad bonds in default would be $23,480,000, and not all of those are held abroad. This is so far bad, but the amount constitutes only a small percentage of the whole amount of American bonds held in Germany, and furnishes no sufficient basia to throw discredit upon the securities of our old established roads.

Railroad and Miscellaneous Stocks.—The stock market has been subjected to a pressure of most unprecedented severity, and considering the circumstances prices have been pretty well maintained. The rate of 1@1 per cent a day for money, which was reached this week, is something far beyond the usual range even of our worst periods of monetary stringency. Prices necessarily yielded, and in some cases made a decline of 2@3 per cent, but at no time was there a regular break in the nature of a panie, which might, in fact, have been expected with some reason, by those long familiar with Wall street business.

There has been no leading specialty this week as the principal business has consisted in the selling of stocks by parties who found it necessary to realize, and the purchase of the same by other parties better able to hold them. The market recovered somewhat to-day, and closed with an improved feeling.

Subsequently it fell off to $16\frac{3}{4}$, and ranged from that to $17\frac{1}{2}$ until to-day; when it again advanced to $18\frac{3}{4}$ in the afternoon, closing at $18\frac{1}{2}$ at $3:30 P. M. The upward turn to-day was based on a London telegram that £170,000 of specie had been withdrawn from the bank, and that the discount rate would probably be further advanced. The announcement of the Secretary of the Treasury that he will sell $1,500,000 per week during April has not apparently had much effect in intimidating the gold clique which still holds control of the market. The rates on gold loans to-day were $1.32, 7, 3.64 and $1.16$ paid for earrying. Time loans of gold were yeaterday queted as follows for borrowing: 30 days "flat," 60 days \frac{1}{3}, 90 days \frac{1}{3}, 4 months \frac{1}{2}, 6 months $161\frac{1}{3}, and all the year $262\frac{1}{3}$ per cent. At the Treasury sale of \frac{1}{3},500,000 on Thursday the total bids amounted to \frac{1}{3},540,000.

Foreign Exchange.-The rates of exchange have been completely unsettled by the influences of the gold and money markets, and yesterday and this morning prime bills sold down to very low figures. To-day the market opened weak, but soon advanced own igures. To any the market opened weak, but soon advanced under a better feeling and moderate purchases of bills, and was still strenger in the afternoon on the cable report from London, which we have noticed above. In the morning prime banker's rates were 107½ for 60 days, and 108 for short sight, and at the close they asked 107½ for long and 108½ for short bills, though actual business was done somewhat lower.

An important event in regard to exchange this week was the making of a careful canvas of all the principal foreign banking houses to ascertain the amount of their 60 days sterling bills leaned and now oustanding. The statements were made upon honor, and are said to be entirely reliable, showing that the total of all these bills amount to only £1,872,000. This result was published in the Journal of Commerce, with some remarks as to the method by which it was reached.

The transactions for the week at the Custom House and Sub Treasury have been as follows:

Virginia Fluances.—A circular issued by the Virginia Auditor virginia Finances.—A circular issued by the virginia Auditor to the tax-gatherers directs that in receiving coupons of the funded loan for taxes they shall only credit the taxpayer with the amount of the coupon less the tax imposed on each coupon by a recent act of the Legislature. The tax upon each coupon will be as follows: On the $30 coupon, $1.35; on the $15 coupon, 67 cents, and on the $3 coupon 13 cents; in the two latter cases discarding fractions. discarding fractions.

The Committee on Securities of the New York Stock Exchange stated in a circular, March 26: "An act of the State of Virginia, approved March 13, 1873, directs the payment, on the 1st of January, 1873, or as soon thereafter as may be, and on the 1st of July, 1873, of two per cent interest upon two-thirds of the principal of the old bonds and new bonds (13.33), and two per cent interest upon the principal of the consolidated bonds ($20).

The Auditor has given notice that the payment on the January, 1873, coupons will commence on the 1st of April next.

These payments are the same as were made in 1872, the differ-

These payments are the same as were made in 1872, the differ ence being that the coupon must be surrendered and cancelled. A non-interest bearing certificate, for the unpaid portion, will be issued.

This committee direct that, on and after the 1st of April, the bonds be called, January, 1873, coupon off."

Tennessee Finances.—In regard to Tennessees the depression was caused (March 29) by the fact that the Tennessee Legislature adjourned without increasing the tax rate so as to make sure that the Funding Bill can be made operative.

This bill, now a law, it will be remembered, provided for the funding of all past due interest, and all which will accrue up to the first of next January, into 40 year 6 per cent bonds, which are to draw interest from January 1, 1874, the first coupon falling due July 1 of that year. The Legislature, however, it is said, passed to draw interest from January 1, 1874, the first coupon falling due July 1 of that year. The Legislature, however, it is said, passed a bill under which assessments of property throughout the State will be equalized, and it is expected that this bill, with the present rate of taxation, will yield a sufficient revenue to sustain the funding operations. It would, however, have been a perfectly sure matter if the rate of taxation had been raised. This matter of assessments is very properly complained of by the people of that State, the assessors in some districts and counties valuing property at not more than half the amount at which the same class of property is valued in other districts and counties, so that class of property is valued in other districts and counties, so that taxation falls unequally. A uniform assessment is therefore a step in the right direction, and, as we said, may result in a larger revenue for the State,—Daily Bulletin.

The Atlanta (Ga.) News states that the new 8 per cent bonds of that State are taking most favorably in the financial market.

Already it is encouraged to hope that ere the first of August dawns all the bonds will be out in the market. They sell at par.

Right to Tax Railroad Land Grants.-The right of a State to tax the lands granted by the United States to a railroad where that corporation has not obtained a full title was the question which arose in a case to which the Kanaas Pacific Railroad was a party. The charter of this road requires the cost of surveying and conveying the lands in question to be paid to the United States by the railroad company, or by the party in interest, before a final patent shall be issued, and further directs all lands not sold by the railway company within three years to be open for sale to bena fide settlers at the minimum price of $1 25 an acre, the money to be paid by the United States to the railroad company. The Supreme Court holds that a State cannot tax such land for two reasons: first, if it could tax them and sell them for delinquency, the United States government's right to receive the cost of the surveys and conveyance before losing its title to them would be interfered with; and, second, because it would interfere with the right of settlers to purchase the lands at the minimum price of $1 25 an acre.

Taxation to Build Railroads.—Washington, March 31. Among the more important and interesting decisions were the following: In the case of Alcott agt. The Supervisors of Fond Du Lac County, Wisconsin, appealed from the Supreme Court of Du Lac County, wisconsin, appealed from the Supreme Court of that State, the important question whether a State has a right to levy taxos for the purpose of aiding in the construction of railroads or not, was involved. It is the opinion of the Supreme Court that railroads are public highways, no matter whether they are built and operated by the State or by private cerperations. The building of railroads is, therefore, a matter of public concern, to add which it is just as lawful to levy taxes as for the building The building of railroads is, therefore, a matter of public concern, to sid which it is just as lawful to levy taxes as for the building of a wagon road or any other public work, and the collection of Harlem stock, to be given also to the Harlem stockholders.

these taxes cannot be resisted by authority of Article V. of Amendments to the Constitution of the United States, which provides that private property shall not be taken for public use without just compensation.

made to ratify the contract with Bischoffsheim. The advantage of this contract was that the bends were sold at par in currency, and the company realized a profit of over $2,000,000. On Jan. 1, 1873, there were still in Bischoffsheim's hands about $2,000,000 of the bonds unsold, and the London Banking Association agreed to take them at about 90 in gold. This was an advantage to the Company, and the proceeds were drawn against some time in February. When Mr. Homan, one of the London directors, visited New York in July, inquiry was made as to the high amount of commission; but he said that Bischoffsheim had to pay amount of commission; but he said that Bischoffsheim had to pay J. S. Morgan & Co. $70,000 commission for bonds in their hands, which had not been sold, but upon which they claimed commission. Mr. Homan was one of the directors who effected the contract; witness was not aware that Mr. Homan had made any of the advances that were used to effect the change of directors of the Erie road. Mr. Homan thought that no ether hanker in London at that time would have made the large advances that Bischoffsheim did, and he believed the commission was not too large under such circumstances. The amount retained by Bischoffsheim & Co. was about £80,000, the amount claimed by them as due from the Company. Bischoffsheim & Goldschmidt, under the contract, are not entitled to two and a half per cent on the whole $30,000,000, but on the bonds actually sold by them, namely, the $6,500,000 issued. Bischoffsheim & Goldschmidt have made no such claim for commission.

There is no clause in the contract to prevent Bischoffsheim & Goldschmidt claiming commission on the bonds if issued to the public during the thirty years by the Farmers' Loan and Trust Company. When the $23,000,000 of reserved bonds are issued. Bischoffsheim & Goldschmidt will be entitled to the cemmission of two and a half per cent, no matter by whom the bonds are

On the 21st of January the Board of Directors of the Eric Railway Company passed resolutions, which were communicated to the Stock Exchange, that the conversion of bonds into the new consolidated was discontinued.

Early in the present meath notice was sent to the Exchango that the conversion would be resumed, but subsequently it was again suspended, by notice addressed by Mr. Shearman, Treasurer of the Erie Company, to the President of the Stock Exchange, dated March 13, as follows:

SIR: I am directed by President Watson to notify you that at a meeting of the Board of Directors of the Erie Railway Company held to-day, it was resolved that the further exchange of the cou-solidated bonds of this company for the bonds of the New York & Erie Railroad Company be discontinued, except when the same are made in each case upon the orders of the Treasurer.

N. Y. Central & Hudson River Railroad.—The Directors of the Central and of the Harlem Railroads met on Tuesday, and after a long conference, made an agreement by the terms of which the Central leases the Grand Central depot and all the track and real estate of the Harlem from Forty-second street in this city to Chatham Four Corners, for the term of 401 years. For this lease the Central agrees to pay 8 per cent in annual dividends in the capital stock of the Harlem and the interest on its bends. The Harlem road retains possession of the Fourth avenue horse car track and all its real estate below Forty second street.

It is said that there are about 20,000 shares of the Harlem stock which have not yet been issued, and which pass isto the hands of the Central. These shares may be issued at any time for repairs or construction expenses, and in the meantime the Central is paying into its own pocket 8 per cent. The city railroads of the Harlem, which are to be reserved to the Harlem, already earn 3 per cent on the entire Harlem capital. The city real estate of the The seventeen locometives belonging to the New York Central & Hudson River Railroad Company, seized by U. S. Collector Bailey, were sold on Saturday, March 29, at Albany, realizing only about $17,000. They were beught by E. D. Worcester, treasurer of the company. There is still $445,000 due the government.

It is reported that the Commissioner of Internal Revenue and the officers of the New York Central and Hudson River Rail-and the officers of the New York Central and Hudson river har road Company have long been anxious to have the controversy between them ever the scrip dividend tax settled by the United States Courts, but neither has been willing to become the plain-tiff in a suit. The recent scizure of locomotives by Collecter Bailey brings the matter into such a position that a judicial decision will be obtained. The Company can sue the Collector to recover the money they have paid in purchasing back their locomotives, and the whole question of the legality and equity of the tax will be involved in the decision.

Pittsburg, Fort Wayne & Chicago Railway.—The annual meeting of the stockholders of the Pittsburg, Fort Wayne & Chicago Railway Company was held at Pittsburg. General Cass; President, submitted a verbal report, in which he stated the most important matter transpired during the year was the decision of the Supreme Court of Ohio in what was known as the quo warranto case, which was brought for the purpose of compelling the property to show by what authority they exercised the rights of ranto case, which was brought for the purpose of compelling the company to show by what authority they exercised the rights of a corporation in that State. The decision was adverse to the interests of the company in some particulars, and decidedly favorable in others. Under the authority given by a resolution that "Betterment Bonds," to the aggregate of $2,000,000 had been issued to the lessees to reimburse them for repairs and for bettering the condition of the road, the lessees asked for authority spend $2,000,000 additional for adding to the rolling stock of all kinds enlarging the shops, purchasing new tools and making exkinds, enlarging the shops, purchasing new tools, and making extensive repairs, &c.

The lessees report that the aggregate net earnings for the year of the road, exclusive of the two branches, reached $9,839,000, and the total, including the two branches, were $10,336,000. There had been paid during the year, of old debts, a little less than $150,000, the main item of which sam was the amount due the Cleveland and Pittsburg road on a contract for a division of

The President then referred to the effect of the past winter on railroads and machinery, and remarked that the past four months were the most severe ever exeperienced since railroads were first operated in this country. The Pittsburg, Fort Wayne and Chicago Railway had met the fate of other roads, the track having been injured and the machinery impaired. The lessees promise that as soon as the weather will permit the track will be put infirst-class condition and the machinery restored. Reference was then made to the extraordinary large amount of business which had been and is being thrown upon raifroads, the necessity of providing additional facilities in the way of tracks, sidings and equipment, in order to accommodate the business offered. The lessees of the read recognizing this necessity had asked authority The President then referred to the effect of the past winter on lessees of the read recognizing this necessity had asked authority to construct a double track along the entire length of the road. The request had not yet been acted upon by the Beard, but would be at an early day. After the report had been submitted, the election of three directors resulted in the election of the following ogentlemen, who will serve for the ensning four years: Wm. B. Ogden, of Chicago; Jesse L. Williams, Fort Wayne; Louis H. Meyer, New York.

General George W. Cass was continued as President, and F. M.

Hutchinson, Esq., as Secretary and Treasurer of the company.

Boston, Hartford & Erie.—Action of the Berdell Bond Trustees.—Wm. T. Hart, George T. Olyphant and Charles P. Clark, trustees under what is knewn as the Berdell mortgage on the Boston, Hartford & Erie Railway Company, have called a meeting of bendholders for April 17. Their mortgage which is fer $20,000,000, provides that on failure to pay interest they may at once foreclose the mortgage, subject, however, to a right in the resident payments and content to reduce the subject of the second states of the second states of the second states of the second states of the second states of the second states of the second states of the second states of the second states of the second states of the second states of the second states of the second states of the second states of the second states of the second states of the second states of the second states of the second states of the second states of the second states of the second states of the second states of the second states of the second states of the second states of the second states of the second states of the second states of the second states of the second states of the second states of the second states of the second states of the second states of the second states of the second states of the second states of the second states of the second states of the second states of the second states of the second states of the second states of the second states of the second states of the second states of the second states of the second states of the second states of the second states of the second states of the second states of the second states of the second states of the second states of the second states of the second states of the second states of the second states of the second states of the second states of the second states of the second states of the second states of the second states of the second states of the second states of the second states of the second states of the second states of the second states of the second states of the second states of the second original cempany to redeem within 18 months. Sept. 13, 1871, they took possession, under foreclosure, of the road, subject, of course, to the eighteen months right of redemption. The recent litigation has been to prevent the completion of the foreclosure, in view of certain provisions of the Bankrupt Act. A meeting of all those holding the bends at Horticultural Hall, Trement street, Boston, the 17th inst., to hold an election, to be presided over by the trustees under the mortgage, or those present, for a board of directors of the same number as new authorized for the railroad, to organize themselves into a corporation with the same privileges as present railroad.

At this meeting a new corporate name is to be selected; the capital stock is to be the amount of the Berdell bonds outstanding, and each bendhelder will be entitled to ten one hundred dellar shares of the new stock for each thousand dellars of bonds when surrendered, and is to vote according to his bonds.

—It is claimed by the assignee in bankruptcy that the Berdell bonds do not cover the Norwich & Worcester lease or the equity of redemption in the Hartford, Providence & Fishkill Railroad. If this claim should be sustained, a certain amount of assets claimed by the bondholders might revert to the creditors and stockholders.

Illinois Central Railroad.—A report from Chicago says: "The annual report of the Illinois Central Railroad shows that the net earnings for the year 1872 amounted to $2,103,106. This is $629,741 less than the net earnings for 1871, owing to the increased expenses for the handling of freight, to the burning of the elevators at the time of the Chicago fire, and to the deficiency in lake transportation. These obstacles are disappearing, and greater earnings are expected next year. The contract entered into with the Mississippi Central and New Orleans, Jackson and Great Northern railways, which provides for an extension of the former railroad to Cairo, and a mutual interchange of traffic. In consideration of the performance of this contract, the Illinois Contral is to invest annually one-eighth of its earnings to the amount tral is to invest annually one-eighth of its earnings to the amount of $100,000, in consolidated mortgage bonds of each road for ten years. During the past ten years there has been paid in the aggregate, dividends to the amount of $22,582,407 07, and the debt has been reduced to the amount of $3,390,500. Of the debt outstanding, $3,390,500 of the construction bonds, and $2,500,000 of redemption bonds will become payable April 1, 1875. A half million has already been advanced toward the work, and nine and a half millions more will be ready as soon as the Dominion Parliament takes the needful action, as it no doubt will.

Although these bonds have been sent to Enrope, they will not he drawn against for two or three weeks, the calculation being that next month, when so much borrowed sterling matures, better rates for the bills can be much borrowed sterling matures, better rates for the bills can be

FRIDAY NIGHT, April 4,, 1873.

Spring has made some further progress, but the season is still late; ninety miles up the Hudson ice two feet thick was reported yesterday; of course the resumption of the navigation of that river is delayed to a date later than any recently recorded, or fully two weeks later than the average. And yet the prospect is not altogether unfavorable. Undoubtedly when the break up of the ice in the rivers and harbors does take place it will be rapid and complete.

The market for spot cotton the past week has been subject to various influences, faverable and untavorable, and under these influences prices have fluctuated considerably. Small receipts early in the week, an advance in gold to 1181 on Monday, increased activity and advancing prices at Liverpool, all contributed to impart strength to our market, and prices improved from 194c. for Middling Uplands on Saturday, to 20c. on Monday. At this point the quetations remained stationary, though almost nominal, under a very slack demand, until Wednesday, when the transactions continuing extremely light, money being very active, the rates of interest high, our receipts increasing, and the Liverpool movement showing less steadiness, there was a decline here of ‡c., followed by a further reduction of ‡c. on Thursday. To-day, with a dull market here and some depression at Liverpool, our quotations remained nominally unchanged. For future delivery, the fluctuations have been even more marked. On Monday, contracts for April, on the basis of low middling, touched 19½c.; for May 19 15-16c., June 20½c., July 20½c.; but this advance was not sustained at the close, and after 'change on that day prices took a sharp turn downward, which was continued throughout Tuesday. Since then the market has been variable, the close today being dull under moderate transactions, the late months, however, showing a slight improvement. The prices for futures last reported were (basis low middling) 18½c. for April, 19½c. for May, 19½c. for June, 19 9-16c. for July, and 19½c. for August. The total sales of this description for the week are 126,400 bales, including 1,000 free on beard. For immediate delivery the total sales foot up this week 8,494 bales, including 5,310 for export, 2,294 for consumption, 90 for speculation, and 800 in transit. Of the above 200 bales were to arrive. The following are the closing quotations to-day: our quotations remained nominally unchanged. For future delowing are the closing quotations to-day:

WEATHER REPORTS BY TELEGRAPH.—The weather the past week has been fitirly favorable for crop purposes, and good progress has in general been made in planting preparations. At New Orleans there were very heavy showers on one day. It has rained on two days at Mobile, and at Selma and Montgomery it has been warm and dry all the week, with the exception of rain on one day. They have also had rain on one day at Macon and Columbus and Augusta; at the two last mentioned places the rain is spoken of as being an unusually severe storm, but that no serious damage was done. It has been warm and dry all the week at Charleston, while at Savannah there have been showers of considerable extent; farm work is stated in both telegrams to be making good progress. At Memphis they have had rain on two days; plowing is becoming quite general, and there is an increase in the land being put down to cotton; labor is said to be scarce, and the competition for it is putting up the rate of wages. At Nsshville they have had rain on two days; planting arrangements are getting on slowly. The thermometer at Charleston and Savannah has averaged 65; at Mobile, 64; Macon, 67; Columbus, 68; Montgomery, 67; and at Selma, 70.

PLANTING FOR THE NEXT CROP AND THE CREDIT SYSTEM.—Are not some of the Southern merchants running more risk than is wise, and will they not be the innocent cause of serious injury not only to planters but also to themselves, in helping to increase so largely the next cotton crop? This is a thought which is well worthy of deliberate censideration. Not that we would counsel a limited planting for the purpose of keeping up price; that would be childish. But at the same time we most carnestly desire that the South shall not raise an over supply of cotton at an increased cost per pound under the stimulus of high prices, and have nothing at the end as the result of the years work except the burden of a large debt; in other words we desire them to raise as much as they can economically and up more.

to raise as much as they can economically and no more.

1. That this plan is not being pursued this year is becoming too evident. The increase in acreage may not be large, but the use of fertilizers will be beyond all precedent. One of our correspondents in Georgia, writing under date of March 28, states that planters are "buying up every pound of everything they can get—in sacks or barrets—that smells bad and costs $50 a ton. The supply originally laid in by our dealers, long since exhausted, has been renewed and again exhausted, and the demand not even abated. Guano dealers have made fortunes in planter's paper, and could have made as much more, as planter's warons are and could have made as much more, as planter's wagons are camping around the towns awaiting expected car loads, and when it comes they almost fight for it." We should not object to this if it were not for the fact that the fertilizers are mainly bought on credit and the crop is being raised ou credit, and will therefore cost very much more than the last one. For instance, the farmer who thus makes his purchases, must pay in the first instance about 25 per cent more than if he bought for cash, and then seven per cent interest with the usual one per cent a month added, and 2½ per cent commission for obtaining the advance, besides the commissions for the storage and the sale of the cotton. Now if we add these expenses to the other costs of production we will readily see one good reason why so many planters keep poor even where add these expenses to the other costs of production we will readily see one good reason why so many planters keep poor even where they sell their cotton at high prices.

2. But this plan of making the crop an expensive one is particularly unwise now. An excessive crop this year certainly means low prices. However much we may fight against the conclusion it is inevitable; and low prices with high cost of production means loss, and a burden of debt and continued poverty. We are very desirous of seeing a large crop of cotton, as we think it will greatly help to drive out other competitors from the field, and help to stimulate all kinds of business; but at the same time we would have it limited in the main by the money capacity of the planters, so that they would be able to sell it at a low figure if necessary, and not be left in a worse condition for their year's work. A reasonable credit would be unobjectionable; this excessive expansion, however, if not checked will, we might almost say, be fatal; if it is persisted in nothing but a very unfavorable say, he tatal; it it is believed in notining but a very untavorable season for cotton growing will save the producers from great loss. We are glad to know that what we have said does not apply to every part of the South. In some sections there is a very conservative feeling: a determination among commission merchants to be cautious in extending credits, and especially where planters show a disposition not to put in a proper proportion of corn.

STOCK OF COTTON IN NEW YORK.—Charles A. Easton, Chairman of the Committee on Statistics of the cotton exchange gives the following statement of the stock of cotton in New York March 31st by actual count—in warehouse, 72,164 bales; in Brooklyn, 6,651; on wharves, 6,377; on shipboard not cleared, 14,509. Total, 99,701.

BOMDAY SHIPMENTS.—According to our cable dispatch received to-day, there have been 28,000 bales shipped from Bombay to Great Britain the past week and 13,000 bales to the continent, while the receipts at Bombay, during the same time have been 43,000 bales. The movement since the first of January is as follows. These are the figures of W. Nicol & Co., of Bombay, and are brought down to Thursday, April 3:

From the foregoing it would appear that compared with last year there is an increase this year in the week's shipments from Bombay to all of Europe of 3,000 bales, and that the total movement since Jan. 1 shows a decrease in shipments of 124,000 bales compared with the corresponding period of 1872.

VISIBLE SUPPLY OF COTTON MADE UP BY CABLE AND TELE-GRAPH.—By cable we have to-night the stocks at the different European ports, the India cotton aftest for all of Europe, and the American affect for each port as given below. From figures the received, we have prepared the following table, showing the quantity of cotton in sight at this date (April 4) of each of the two past seasons:

BREADSTUFFS.

FRIDAY P. M., April 4, 1873.

There has been a very good shipping demand for flour during the past week, but mainly superfine for the British Provinces at $6 25@$6 50, and medium extras for the West Indies at $7 75@ $8 50, the latter including Western and Sonthern from winter wheat. Common extra State and Western flour from spring wheat has been neglected, but, being in very small supply, has ruled firm. The better grades, at $8 75 and upward, have been "shaded" to some extent to sell; the approach of warm weather threatens to impair the condition of much of the stock in store, which consists mainly of baker's and family brands. To-day the market was generally weak, but there was a good demand from the West Indies, and considerable sales of city shipping extras at $8@$8 15,

The wheat market has been inactive. The demand from millers has been steady, but slow; yet, in view of the small supply in store and coming forward by rail, holders have been able to insist upon nearly full prices. Latterly, however, there has been rather more disposition to realize. The prospect is fair for an early opening of the Erie Canal and the great lakes, notwithstanding the severity of the weather, the heavy fall of anow having protected in a measure the ground from the frost. No. 2 Milwaukee has been offered at $1 60 for May. Advancing ocean freights and a decline in exchange have contributed to the obstacles in the way of business by shippers. To-day the market was quiet and weak. Within a few days there has been a marked decline in wheat at Chicago, in anticipatiou, it is stated. that lake freights will be scarce and high.

Indian corn has declined; the stock in store continues large, approximating two million bushels, and there is a vast accumulation at the West, for which there appears to be no considerable ontlet, except such as this market may afford; consequently, holders have shown more disposition to realize, and shippers have been compelled to insist upon lower prices, owing to an advance in ocean freights and the decline in sterling exchange. Late transactions embrace old mixed Western at 63@63½c. in store; prime new do, at 65½c. aflont, and new Southern yellow 66c. afloat. The bids for prime Western mixed, June delivered, have been reduced to 61c., after some business early in the week at 62c. To-day the market was quiet and drooping.

Rye has been dull and depressed, and closed quite unsettled.
Barley has been in better demand and closes firmer.

Oats have been gaining strength. The supply has been and there has been some speculative influence operating, the market was firmer and fairly active. The supply has been small,

GROCERIES.

FRIDAY EVENING, April 4, 1873.

The excitement in gold has had the effect of strengthening prices on most lines of groceries during the past week, and in some cases buyers have been induced to operate more freely in consequence. As the rule, however, sales have been only on a fair scale, and while prices have been strong no material advance has occurred. Raw sugars are very firm, and refined has advanced a point. Coffee is firm at about previous quotations. Foreign dried fruits have sold fairly, and show more strength with some lines higher. Tea remains dull and nominal. Spices are quiet but strong.

TEA.

The past week has shown very little improvement in the volume of business, but the tone of the market has been strengthened somewhat by the advance in gold. Holders have not been able to advance their pretentions owing to the extreme dulness, but they have shown less disposition to press sales, while the cost of laying down fresh stock was so much enhanced by the upward movement in gold. The sales are mainly restricted to the small amounts necessary to keep up assortments in the interior, and only small assorted lines are distributed. Invoices are slow of sale, and remain nominally unchanged in price. There are still a few small holders who are willing to concede for the purpose of pressing sales, but the majority of importers decline to make concessions from the current low rates for reasons given in our previous report. The market remains heavy on nearly all grades, and in the absence of activity must be considered somewhat nominal. The interior stocks are light, and holders here anticipate, with good reason, a healthy run of trade before the spring season closes. The sales amount to 2,400 half chests Japans, 3,849 do. Green, 700 do. Oolong.

2,400 half chests Japans, 3,849 do. Green, 700 do. Oolong.
Imports the past week have included 12,500 lbs. Green, per "Witch," from Hong Kong; and 392,063 lbs. Green and 13,164 lbs. Japan, per "Claro Babuy an," from Shanghai. The indirect importations have included 46 pkgs. by steamer.

The following table shows the imports of Tea into the United States from January 1 to date, in 1873 and 1872:

|                          | Black.    | Green.    | Japan.    | Total.     |

The indirect receipts at New York, principally overland receipts from San Francisco, have been 15,920 pkgs, since January 1, against 54,673 last year. Imports at San Francisco from Jan. 1 to March 16, were 121,165 lbs. of China and 500,430 lbs. of Japan tea.

COFFEE.

There has been a good demand for the Brazil grades during the past week, and large sales have resulted. The quotable range of values has not been altered, though the better grades have in some instances been held at a shade above our last figures. The feeling of firmness engendered by the last Rio telegram has continued through this week, and the rise in gold, while It has nosettled trade to some extent, has steadied the market somewhat, and holders manifest more firmness. The arrivals of the week have been considerable amounts of Santos, a part of which has been sold within the range. There has been more activity in the India grades, with liberal sales of East India coffee at prices a shade under the extremes of last week. There has been considerable West India stock sold into consumption, and the prices on these grades rule firm at about last quotations. The market closes with a firm feeling but is rather quiet at the moment. The sales since our last have included 6,245 mats Java, ex "Queen of the Seas;" 3,677 bags Ceylon, ex "Skimmer of the Waves;" 2,310 bags Maracaibo, ex "Impulse;" 2,025 Laguayra, 849 Mexican, 560 St. Domingo, 65 Costa Rica, 40 Curacoa; 1,750 bags Santos ex "Mozart," 1,036 do. ex "Flamsteed," and 114 do. ex "Merrimack. At Baltimore, 1,500 Rio ex "New Light;" at New Orleans, 1,500 do. ex "Hancock," at 18c.; at Galveston 1,192, Savannah 200, and Charleston 500.

Imports at this port the past week have included 3,300 bags Rlo, per "Homely," 3.500 do Santos, per "Mozart," 2,644 do do, per "Cito," 2,268 do do, per "Catharina;" 1,670 bags Lagnayra, per "Vid," 4,634 do. do, per "Sjvellan;" 1.620 do. St. Domingo, per "Vicksburg," and 2,826 do. sundries.

SUGAR.

The arrivals of raw sugar during the past week have been rather free, and receivers have shown a willingness to part with stock from the wharf at about last week's figures, although values have been materially enlanced by the rise in gold. The money stringency has operated as a check upon prices, and has prevented the development of any advance that might have resulted from the rise in gold. Had money been easier, holders would have been indisposed to sell except at higher figures, notwithstanding the fact that their offerings were becoming more liberal. The business continues to run largely upon centrifugal sugars, but Muscovados are becoming more in favor, and rule strong at the range of 8@8%c. for fair to good. There has been an improved feeling developed in refined sugars, and the market advanced a shade during the week, but is easier again at the close. Hards were especially firm, the prodaction being very little in excess of the trade requirements; 'and softs, while still produced in pretty liberal amounts, were also advanced, but are off a point to-day. The sales of raw sugars include 3,009 hhds. Cuba, 71/2 8%c.; Martingue and Guadaloupe, 7%@8c.; 68 bbis. do., 7%@8c.; 98 bbds. Demerara, 734c.; 287 clarified do., 101/0103/c.; 522 hhds. centrlfugai, 92/c.; 64 hhds. molasses, 7%c.; 52 do. Porto Rico, 9c.; 107 do. Cuba at 7%@7%c.; 3,991 boxes centrifugal, 9@9%c.; 3,146 boxes Havana, 7%@8%c.; 292 de. molasses. 7%c. To-day a sale of 5,000 hugs beet root augar, slightly damaged, was sold auction at 7%@769-100c., principally at the former figure.

MOLASSES.

The supply of Cuha molasses has run down to about 725 hhda., and this diminished supply prevents any very liberal operations, although the demand at present 1s active, and large sales could be effected it holders were in a position to meet the wants of refiners. Three cargoes of Cuba melass a have been taken out during the week, at prices covered by a range of 35@37c. The stock of Porto Rico amounts to 634 hhds., and sales of moderate amounts in lots have been effected to the trade during the week. Sales of English Islands are fair and prices remain strong. There has been a good business done in domestic grades, and the stock is reduced to 3,800 bbls. Prices are unchanged and continue firm. The trade in syrups is fairly active, and the market continues strong at former prices, with light offerings of the lower grades, which, at the moment, are most desirable. The sales of molassee are 370 hhds. and 40 tcs. Caba, 37c.; 75 hhds. Porto Rico, and 625 bbls. New Orleans within the range.

THE DRY GOODS TRADE.

FRIDAY, P. M., April 4, 1873.

Local retailers and those doing business in the interior are engaged rather more actively in distributing goods to consumers, but the trade improves slowly, especially in the country. The effects of the severe winter are more lasting in the rural districts than here, and the consumptive demand in the country will no doubt be unusually late this year. The growing stringency in money, while it cannot altogether cut off extravagance on the part of the masses, will do much toward curtailing the business of this year, as there are comparatively few among the masses in mercantile pursuits who do not feel the necessity, in a time like the present, to practice more economy in living and incidental expenses. The holders of foreign merchandise are able to attest the fact by the slow sales which their goods are meeting. Staple fabrics move with considerable freedom at all times, but the more fancy lines, designed especially for the spring trade move slowly. Domestics of most descriptions continue to meet moderate sale, but are quiet for this period of the year. Collections are coming in slowly, the prevailing stringency of money having the effect of delaying remittances from the interior.

DOMESTIC COTTON GOODS,-The volume of business since our last has not been very liberal, though the principal lines are still meeting a fairly active distribution, and the market remains stendy. Agents hold all of the more staple grades of brown sheetings and shirtings, with much firmness, but jobbers having become depressed under the protracted dulness, are disposed to yield a fraction on some makes, and the medium and fine browns have, in several instances, been selected by jobbers to make a run upon. For this purpose prices have been shaded a point on some of the more prominent brands. The feature of the week has been the excitement in prints occasioned by the action of a leading jobbing firm in reducing prices 1/2c, on many of the principal brands, with a view to encouraging buyers to operate. As usual agents protested against this single-handed action on the part of a jobbing house, and the result was a letter signed by most of the print agencies, protesting against the course of the jobbing firm, and stating that unless they returned to regular prices no more goods would be delivered them by the agents. The jobbing house in question replied to the effect that they should sell goods at their own prices, and so the matter rests. Quotations in prints are nominally unchanged, but there are doubtless many of the regular makes that by means of extended discounts reach retailers at a lower price than 111c. less regular discount. Colored cottons are quiet and chiefly steady at unchanged prices. The sales are confined to the limited immediate requirements of the trade, but with reduced stocks in first hands all cotton fabrics are pretty steadily held by agents.

DOMESTIC WOOLEN GOODS.—The same unsatisfactory condition of affairs that has been noticed for some time past continues to prevail in the market for woolen fabrics, and sales are still on a very restricted scale. A few of the more staple lines of goods are moved with a fair degree of freedom, but goods about the movement of which there is the least question are slow to sell, and quotations are mainly nominal. Light weight fancy cassimeres of the better grades are sold readily and rule firm. The poorer qualities are hard to sell, and the current quotations are nominal. Flannels are quiet, and these: in connection with other woolen goods, are drooping. The supplies of most descriptions of woolen fabrics are not unusually large for this season of the year, but the prospects for the spring distribution are too unfavorable to produce any bnoyancy in values. The demand for heavy weights for the fall trade has not amounted to much as yet, clothiers holding off in anticipation of easier rates later in the year, and for a more encouraging ontlook in their trade.

Foreign Goods.—The rise in gold has checked business, but importers are disposed to feel rather strong in goods, although they are somewhat anxious just now to realize if this can be accomplished without too great a sacrifice on the stocks they now hold. The importations are decreasing, but the supply here is liberal, and the auction houses find no difficulty in obtaining goods to sell. In the retail stores there is a good business doing in cheap silks and in linens and other light fabrics for warm weather. A few of the most staple lines are strong, but for the most part prices are very irregular.

OUR MONEY MARKET AND THE BRITISH SAFEGUARI'S AGAINST PANICS.

Since the advance in the Bank of England rate to 4 per cent considerable anxiety is developing itself as to the probable stringency of money next Fall It is generally believed that for some months to come we shall have a quiet loan market. But as to the prospects after the dulness of Summer has passed away, and the business activity of September and October have set in, there is less of as-urance; and it is agreed on all sides that an important element for the solution of the difficulty lies in the English money market and the anomalous condition of the Bank of England. Hence an unusual interest has been developed here in the discussion, in the House of Commons on the 25th March, on the bank and on the methods for preventing panis. Some months ago we announced that a Royal Commission, or a Parliamentary Committee, would probably be appointed. One or the other have now been promised by Mr. Gladstone, except some bank reform, satisfactory to Parliament, can be previously proposed by the Cabinet. To give opportunity for such a scheme to be perfected and brought out, the whole question was postponed for a short time, and the Government is pledged to one of three courses, either to bring in a plan for reforming the Charter of the Bink, or to grant a Parliamentary Committee, or to consent to a Royal Commission of Euquiry. Fifteen years have elapsed since the last Commission of this sort terminated its labors; and its report, as well as that of the Parliamentary Committee of 1841, are so useful, that a similar document has been much desired to be brought down to our time, comprehending the important facts of the panic of 1866, and the movements incident to the payment of the French indamnity, with the chief permanent and transitory effects of each on the financial situation and commercial progress of England. Such an inquiry is to be made; except, indeed, which is not very likely, the Government should venture on and carry out a plan of its own.

But what has our money market to do with this proposed modification of the laws affecting the Bink of England, and where is the precise point at which it crosses the line of our business? The answer is that what is proposed for the Bank is to prevent panies, to check the rapid fluctua. tions in its rate, which have been frequent of late years. If this reform is attained, if greater stability is given to the London money market and better safeguards against panies, then it is easy to see how great our advantage will be; for our railroads and other corporations are heavy borrowers in England, and such large sums of foreign capital are lending here that it is impossible to promote ease and stability there with security against panies, without giving a reciprocal impulse to our money market here.

As to the specific reforms which Parliament proposes they are various. Mr. Anderson, of Glasgow, wanted to issue an unlimited amount of currency on a plan precisely like that lately rejected by Congress and advocated by our soi disant free banking men. Mr. Anderson would, stop panies by allowing any person who owns Government securities to issue 80 per cent of paper money of all denominations down to one pound sterling. Two per cent tax is to be paid on this circulation, which is unlimited in amount. How he would have these notes redeemed, and how much coin reserve should be held against them, we are not told. Although this plan was not brought to a vote, and we cannot learn how many supporters it could command, still there is evidence that the influence of the inflationists is very small indeed. The other speakers all advocated inquiry, but offered few definite reforms, except Mr. Fowler. who suggested that the law should be amended so as to provide for the prompt issue of currency in times of panic, without waiting as now for a special interposition of the C abinet authorizing the law to be broken. He would have the law contain within itself an arrangement for breaking its chief provisions when panic was threatening.

What is important for us to see is that this proposed change in the law is so minute and nominal as to offer in practice no new safeguard against financial disaster. The worst point of the English banking system, as we have often s howed, is its deficiency of gold reserves. The act of 1844 does not require any banking reserve at all. It leaves the Directors at full liberty to keep as much banking reserve or as little as they think fit. This freedom should be restricted by law. For experience notoriously proves that banks are not to be safely left to themselves in this matter. The merest tyro in banking knows that to keep large reserves is o sacrifice possible profit. Other things being equal, the s maller the reserves of a bank the larger are its gains. Hence there is a constant pressure on the directors and managers to keep the ratio of their securities to their specie as high as they can, or in other words to keep as little reserve as possible. 'The distinctive skill of a successful banker is exercised more by this than by almost any other part of his executive duties, and it is his constant task, his peculiar pride, to keep his investments at the highest level, while holding a full average available at the shortest possible notice.

We refer to these elementary principles in order to bring clearly into view the real want of the Bank Charter Act. As Mr. Tooke and many other men of experience have shown, it is faulty chiefly in this, that it makes no provision enforcing a reserve to be kept in the banking department. The Bank of England, as is well known, is divided into two parts. The first part is wholly occupied with the work of issuing notes. Of these it keeps outstanding 15 millions, issued in exchange for consols and other Government securities. For every five pound note issued beyond this sum, five sovereigns must be held in vault. Conse quently for the 25 millions of notes outstanding to-day it has to hold 10 millions of coin, three-fourths of which must be of gold, while one-fourth may be of silver.

Besides the gold thus held by the Note Department of the Bank, there are 13 millions of gold, or of notes which are its equivalent, held in the Banking Department. This mass there held of coin and notes is what we mean by the bank. ing reserve. On this reserve the law does not at present operate. The Bank is at liberty to let this precious basis of its credit sink low or rise high, without any interference from the law. This lack of interference is, we think, a defect in the Act-almost its only defect. Mr. Tooke proposed to compensate the Bank for the expense of holding a very large coin reserve if there were no better way of correcting the evil. Could the proper remedy be applied, could the Bank of England be compelled to hold an adequate banking reserve, and, if the obligation to hold an ample coin reserve were enforced on the other banks of deposit in London, England would have a tetter preventive against panies than could be secured by any other expedient The suspension of the which has ever been devised. restriction clause, the allowing of more notes to be put in circulation without coin to represent them is a very doubtful remedy. It has been tried three times with no very satisfactory success. If the banks be not compelled to hold adequate reserves of coin, no other expedient which has yet been suggested to be inserted in the proposed bill, can guard against panics, or give stability to the London loan market.

THE CATASTROPHE TO THE "ATLANTIC."

We are glad to see a growing disposition in the public a body of confederated miners in the Welsh mountains was mind to grant the Captain of this ill-fated steamer a fair able 3,000 miles off to bring about the shipwreck and loss of trial. In all such frightful calamities the first impulse natural to the human mind is to find some scape-goat on whom to lay the whole blame; There is little danger in this country that any permanent injustice will be done to the reputation or standing of any officer of the "Atlantic" if he can prove that before as well as after the vessel struck, he did all that human skill and endurance could achieve for the discharge of his duty. The White Star fleet of steamers are as fine vessels as float in our harbor, and the discipline of their crews, as well as their accommodations for passengers and their care of the public, have been such that Government have just allotted to this line, with general approval, the contract for carrying the United States mails. This prestige is not to be hastily destroyed by any single disaster, and till it can be clearly shown that the blame really rests on them, the public judgment on Capt. Williams, and on his officers, will at least be held in abey-

In this melancholy affair the public have no further wish than that justice should be done. And while we would not screen the guilty we would still less punish the innocent. As to Captain Williams, whose case we are now specially considering, some of the papers have been at great pains to show that he was formerly dismissed from another line for drunkenness. This charge is not supported by any authentic evidence and it is contradicted by the fact that Captain Williams was not dismissed at all, but resigned on account of a difficulty with a passenger, his employers recommending him in such high terms that the White Star Line at once engaged Tne whole story is thus unworthy of notice, especially as it is known that never once while on board tho "Atlantic" had Captain Williams been known to drink any intoxicating beverage. The whole evidence goes to show that no influence whatever arose from this cause towards bringing on the accident to this steamer and her precious freight of human life.

Again, much has been said as to the deficiency of coal, which undoubtedly caused the disaster, by rendering necessary a deviation to Halifax. But it is evident that more than the full complement of coal was taken on board at Liverpool. The chief engineer, John Foxley, testifies to this, and gives some other important information. He says:

"847 tons of coal were put on board at Liverpool; there were 120 tons on board from the previous voyage, making the total 967 tons; we used about 80 tons before starting on the voyage; our average consumption was 69 tons a day; we had been 11 days out when we bore up for Halifax; the consumption was greater than usual, because the coal was mixed English and Welsh; this was my nineteenth voyage in the Atlantic; I joined her as third engineer, and was raised; this was my second voyage as chief; we consumed about the same quantity of coal this time as on the last voyage; on that voyage we had a much larger quantity than this time, probably 1,200 or 1,300 tons; we were out 13 days and had 129 tons when we reached New York; it was all put in for the use of the ship; the highest rate of speed the Atlantic could make in favorable weather was 12½ and 13 knots an hour without sail; her average rate of speed from the time we bore up for Halifax was 10½ or 11 knots; previous to the last two voyages we had all Welsh coal on the passages to New York; I heard the chief engineer say the average consumption was 59 or 60 tons per day; I know it was less than when we used mixed coal."

We gather from this statement that there was put on board an abundance of coal for an ordinary voyage, even at this equinoctial period of the year, with its rough seas, frequent storms, and head winds. As to quantity the coalage was ample, but as to quality there is room for inquiry. Every steamship man knows that the soft coal of Staffordshire burns up more quickly than the harder coal of Wales. Why this soft coal was substituted for the ordinary article, is not stated. The strikes in the Welsh mines suggest an explanation. It is a singular instance of the wide influence diffused by human misdeeds that the obstinate perversity of a body of confederated miners in the Welsh mountains was able 3.000 miles off to bring about the shipwreck and loss of many hundred lives. It is also noted that there were an unusual proportion of English and Welsh passengers aboard, and that the accident did not happen till the strike which had indirectly caused it had closed in a compromise.

But we must now turn to the captain's own statement of the facts, which is remarkable not only for its clearness and simplicity, but especially for the absence of any effort to Captain Williams is criminate any person whatever. too experienced and able a scaman not to formed in his own mind a very distinct, positive idea as to how the ship was lost, why no lookout saw the land, till the stunning, quivering shock told the story to all on board, as also why such extra speed was made during his two or three unfortunate hours of absence from deck. As to these matters the captain is silent, as was needful, for the court did not want, though the public may hereafter be glad to learn, the captain's opinions on these points. We say opinions, because the facts are destined, perhaps, never to be known, the lips which could testify to them being all sealed in death. The essential parts of the captain's statement are as follows:

"We sailed from Liverpool March 20. During the first part of the passage had favorable weather and easterly winds. On the 24th, 25th and 26th experienced southwest and westerly gales, which brought the ship down to 118 miles a day. On the 31st of Which brought the snip down to 118 miles a day. On the 31st of March the engineer's report showed but about 127 tons of coal on board. We were then 460 miles east of Sandy Hook, with wind southwest and high westerly swell and falling barometer, the ship steaming only eight knots per hour. Considered the risk too great to push on, as we might find ourselves, in the event of the state of the state of the state of the state of the state of the state of the state of the state of the state of the state of the state of the state of the state of the state of the state of the state of the state of the state of the state of the state of the state of the state of the state of the state of the state of the state of the state of the state of the state of the state of the state of the state of the state of the state of the state of the state of the state of the state of the state of the state of the state of the state of the state of the state of the state of the state of the state of the state of the state of the state of the state of the state of the state of the state of the state of the state of the state of the state of the state of the state of the state of the state of the state of the state of the state of the state of the state of the state of the state of the state of the state of the state of the state of the state of the state of the state of the state of the state of the state of the state of the state of the state of the state of the state of the state of the state of the state of the state of the state of the state of the state of the state of the state of the state of the state of the state of the state of the state of the state of the state of the state of the state of the state of the state of the state of the state of the state of the state of the state of the state of the state of the state of the state of the state of the state of the state of the state of the state of the state of the state of the state of the state of the state of the state of the state of the state of the state of the state of the st too great to push on, as we might find ourselves, in the event of a gale, shut out from any port of supply, and so decided to bear up for Halifax. At 1 P. M., 31st, Sambro Island was distant 170 miles; ship's speed varying from 8 to 12 knots per hour; wind south with rain, which veered to westward at 8 P. M., with clear weather. At midnight I judged the ship to have made 122 miles, which would place her 48 miles south of Sambro, and I then left the deck and went into the chart room, leaving orders about the lookout, and to let me know if they saw anything and about the lookout, and to let me know if they saw anything and call me at 3 A. M., intending then to put the ship's head to the southward and await daylight. My first intimation of the catastrophe was tho striking of the ship on Mar's Island and remaining there fast."

Everybody who knows Captain Williams ascribes to him an energetic habit of doing and seeing to everything himself. This habit was the occasion of an accident by which he broke his leg sometime ago in leaving the boats immediately after a collision, or some such event of temporary danger. For how many hours on the day before the disaster he had been on deck in active duty we are not told. But he needed repose, and gave orders to be called at the hour of three, when, according to his calculations, the vessel would be just outside the harbor. By what fatality it happened that there was so poor a watch kept we shall never know, nor why the second and fourth officers who were in charge, did not give the alarm or descry the land, though the night was clear, and the bright line of snow must have been plaid to be seen.

Captain Williams has been blamed for leaving the deck at this critical juncture, and also for making an error in his reckoning whereby he thought he was 20 miles west of his actual position. He has also been blamed for not steaming at a slower rate or even waiting for the daylight, especially as he had never been on that coast before, and had no pilot aboard. We shall hear in due time what Captain Williams has to say on these points. As to his choice of that particular hour for repose, it was probably the first opportunity he had had since he put about for Halifax, and after three A. M. he expected several hours of incessant labor on deck. Moreover, man must sleep, and an efficient officer was left onduty, a seaman of experience, whose rank in the service was next to the Captain, and whose ability to cope with want of a brisk lookout at the time of the ac cident, and the other the failure of the third officer to rouse the Captain at the time he had directed beforehand Of the more remote causes of the accident, one is the failure of the coal; and the other, the error in the reckoning caused by the westerly currents, which are proverbially changeable and hard to make out on that coast. It is impossible at this stage of the inquiry, and quite unnecessary to make any attempt to settle the question, as to how far this fearful catastrophe was attributable to negligence, and how far to fortuitous circumstances not to be foreseen or avoided by ordinary human skill. All we ask is that the Captain, the officers, and all implicated, may have a dispassionate hearing, a fair trial, and that a just punishment be awarded to those who may be found guilty.

NEW MOVEMENTS IN REGARD TO THE USURY LAWS.

The agitation against the Usury laws, which was begun in The Chronicle last fall, has not been without success. The chief arguments we have urged against these laws, as will be remembered, are two; first, that they render no service in protecting borrowers, because they are not, and cannot be, enforced; and, secondly, that they enhance the rates of interest, disturb the money market, and give new force to the evils they were intended to assuage. The public mind is thoroughly stirred up in this agitation; and it is believed the present Legislature will not close its session without dealing with these penal statutes, which have done so much harm.

This week several important movements have been started in connection with this agitation. First, we have the earnest and luminous charge to the Grand Jury by Recorder Hackett, on Monday, in the Court of General Sessions. The law of 1837 makes it the duty of all courts to make such a charge. But for some years past this duty has been performed in a brief perfunctory manner, because long experience has shown the inadequacy of juridical remedies against exorbitant rates of interest. The following is the charge of the Recorder:

I am still commanded by statute to charge you upon the Usury Laws. The mercantile community hoped that the Legislature, now in session, would conquer the ancient superstition against free trade in money. Competition in money, in the belief of all the political economists, tends to cheapen its use. The greatest number of lenders obey the laws respecting usury, yet there often come periods when borrowers are willing to make their own contracts for the use of money, and then these, by the very operation of the Usury Laws, are forced into a limited market. However, the Legislature has refused its assent to the repeal, and the Usury Laws remain. Laws remain.

It is not necessary for a Judge to explain these laws, or expound their penalties to gentlemen of such intelligence as I believe you their penalties to gentlemen of such intelligence as I believely of to possess, but there is an offense of which I may speak most particularly—one which is the direct result of the Usnry statute, and which is latterly assuming magnitude and threatening great distress. This offense is comprehended in the combination of individuals (and perhaps of some banks, through brokers or middlemen) to diminish the circulation of money in regular channels. middlemen) to diminish the circulation of money in regular channels, nels so as to raise the percentage for its use in irregular channels, to the mutual profit of the combiners. The result of this combination is not only extortion from a needy class of speculative borrowers, but an embarrassment of commercial dealings among classes not given to apeculation. In the language of our Revised Statutes, such conviction is an act injurious to trade and commerce. At common law (says Blackstone), "practices which make the market dearer to the fair trader" were offenses against public trade. If such offences exist, inquire tearlessly into their colorie and thoroughly investigate as to the offenders, without public trade. If such offences exist, inquire tearlessly into their origin, and thoroughly investigate as to the offenders, without thought or consideration as to their position, and "without fear or favor." The theft of one man from another may beggar the unit loser, but it is possible by a conspiracy such as I have out and lined to beggar a community even of the character, extent, and importance as that in which we live. Theft of industry and of regular profits, by means of immoral and unlawful machinations of capitalists of moneyed institutions (if such machinations exist), any anticipated danger was proved by many years of trial.

On the whole, then, it looks to us as though the calamity must be ascribed almost wholly to two immediate causes, and to two more remote. Of the former, one is the

In accordance with this direction of the court, a number of witness s have been examined, and some important evidence has been put on record. A similar proceeding was taken four or five years ago, when several of the brokers and prominent lenders in Wall street were fined $250 each. With this single exception, no Grand Jury has presented or indicted any person under this provision of the usury laws. It remains to be seen whether any better success will attend the present effort.

When the charter is disposed of at Albany the attention of the legislature is expected to be gained to the question of usury. This contingency has attracted the attention of our reformers, who are making preparations for acting with vigor. Three or four distinct plans have been suggested since the defeat of Senator Winslow's bill. The first, as we lately indicated, aims at a total repeal of the penalties, leaving the rate 7 per cent in absence of special agreement, but legalizing all contracts to pay higher rates. The second plan is to introduce into the ameniments to the Code, which are to be passed this year, a provision to the effect that when parties have actually agreed not to plead usury they shall not be allowed to go back on their own act, or to plead that the contract was usurious. This provision would be in the nature of estoppel; and although it has the sanction of some names of influence, we are afraid that it would not be found to give much relief. For as the law of 1837 voids usurious contracts ab initio, such a stipulation could not survive the contract on which it depends for existence. It seems to us that both the original contract and this special stipulation which forms a part of it, would be alike void. However this may be, there are better methods than this for accomplishing the improvement of the usury laws, and this so-called reform would only add to the confusion which is one of the worst practical' mischiefs of the existing sys-

Another plan which has some friends at Albany is an extension of the principle of the act April 6, 1850, which forbids corporations to plead usury. This prohibition it is proposed to extend and apply to individuals. The consequence would be the removal of a portion of that partiality which gives special privileges to corporations in the money market, and makes our usury laws so inequitable in their practical working. Of course, every instalment of reform is welcome in so extensive and complicated a subject. But it is at least questionable whether the more radical reform measure could not be carried with as much ease as any of these half-measures, while any of the latter if adopted will form an excuse for refusing further legislation on the subject for some years to come. 'As to corporations, moreover, there are a number in this city which are released by their special charters from all restrictions or penalties in connection with the len ling of money at high rates of interest. With these privileges in view some persons have proposed to amend the usury laws by the simple provision that all immunties and prohibitions touching the pleading of usury and the usury penalties which are now binding on any moneyed corporations shall be equally and impartially extended to individual citizens. Of this ambiguous and sweeping measure we will only say that as it is intended to be equivalent to the repeal of the usury laws altogether, and as every intelligent member of the Legislature who votes for it will know that this is its true intent and force, a much more simple and straightforward course would be to repeal the offensive laws directly.

Such are the principal novelties which this week has brought to light in the usury agitation. The appeal to the Grand Jury would have commanded more sympathy had it the business of many of the brokers, a meeting was called have had money ruling at rates higher than ever before prevailed during so long a period. Had the courts last Fall or Winter taken some action, considerable public sympathy would no doubt have been attracted; but now the movement is regarded as a stock speculation, intended to help the bull clique, and adroitly started by them to serve their own ends. Besides, we are now near the season when the money market will ease up of itself, so that this interposition on the part of the courts comes too late for any practical utility to be hoped for by those who have faith in this sort of remedy.

In common with the majority of the people, we have little confidence in juridical interposition as a remedy for stringency, or a check to high rates of interest, or a relief to borrowers. The best remedy-'hat which we urge, because its virtues have been thoroughly tested by experience and proved by other States and in other commercial countriesis unconditional and early repeal of all usury penalties what-

THE HIGH RATES FOR FIRE INSURANCE.

It strikes us that the time is fast approaching for our merchants to take some action with regard to the insurance combination which is threatening to become very oppressive. We all concede that the risks assumed by fire companies warrant a higher than the ordinary rate of interest to justify the investment of capital, and since the Chicago and Boston culamities, and the consequent loss therefrom, policy holders have been ready to acquiesce in the increased rates. They have believed, however, that this was to some extent at least a temporary tax, to be shaded in the insurer's favor as soon as practicable. But it now seems, that having tasted the sweats of the present arrangement, the companies purpose to put themselves into a position where they shall be entirely independent, and can make such charges in all cases as they in their wisdom may fix upon. In order that our readers can have before them the extent of the late advance we give the following schedule of the average rates in 1871 and 1873:

|                           | 971, 137 | 3.                | 1871. | 1873. |
| Dry goods                 | 50 10    | 0 Boots and shoes | 45    | 90    |
| Groceries                 | 40 8     | 0   Hardware      | 60    | 100   |
| Fancy goods               | 60 11    | 0 Leather         | 35    | 75    |
| Bonded and storage stores | 50 8     | 0 Glassware       | 60    | 110   |
| Tea and coffee            | 45 8     | 30 Tobacco        | 50    | 90    |
| Clothing                  | 50 10    | 0 Wool            | 45    | 90    |

As we have already stated, policy holders have felt entirely willing to acquiesce in this advance, and only desire that relief should come to them when it could be afforded; the increased rates being considered just and proper under the demand made upon the companies by losses of unusual and extraordinary character. This much all are willing to grant; but the recent action of the Board of Underwriters is looked upon with much disfavor and great uneasiness. Combination of any kind which prevents the possibility of competition is the worst evil our people have to contend with; and if the present scheme could be successfully earried out merchants would be entirely at the mercy of the insurance companies.

It seems that on the 25th of February, 1873, the New York Board of Underwriters passed a resolution making it obligatory upon its members, comprising nearly all the insurance companies and agencies in this city, to refuse to do business with any insurance broker unless he should have signed the following agreement: "We the undersigned insurance brokers do hereby pledge ourselves in the transaction of our business with all companies not to place risks at a rate below that established by the New York Board of Fire Underwriters, or to receive from any company a greater rate of commission than the rate of commission established by said Board." This measure promising seriously to affect not come too late to prevent existing evil. For six months we and a committee appointed to confer with a similar com-
